HISTORICAL NOTE

The Mount Sinai Hospital was organized and incorporated in 1852 for "benevolent, charitable and scientific purposes." The work of the Hospital was begun in a small private dwelling on 28th Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, which accommodated 28 patients. The Hospital now has accommodations for 650 patients, not including 17 beds in the receiving ward.

In 1871 the Hospital completed and occupied, at Lexington Avenue, 66th and 67th Streets, a building having a capacity of 200 beds.

The Dispensary, now known as the Out-Patient Department, was inaugurated in 1872.

The clinical departments first organized were those of medicine and surgery; a gynecologist was appointed in 1877.

Mount Sinai created precedents among the hospitals of New York by setting up a distinct pediatric service in 1878 and an otologic service in 1879; the latter was at first combined with, but in 1910 was separated from, ophthalmology and laryngology.

The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses, in affiliation with the Hospital, was incorporated in March, 1881; the name of the school was changed in 1923 to the Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing.

In 1885 a committee was formed to develop a Medical Library.

In 1886 a district medical service was inaugurated.

Provision for the care of private patients was first made in 1886; an intermediate or "semi-private" ward was opened in 1904.

In 1893 a Pathological Department was established, and consultants in dermatology and neurology were appointed.

The corner stone of the group of ten hospital buildings occupying the block bounded by Fifth and Madison Avenues, 100th and 101st Streets, was laid May 22nd, 1901; the buildings were completed and occupied March 15th, 1904, when 500 beds became available for the care of the sick.

A Department of Dietetics was established in 1905.

HISTORICAL NOTE

A Social Service Department was inaugurated in 1906.

A Tuberculosis Clinic was organized in 1908.

The first of a series of "Fellowship" funds, to assist investigators engaged in scientific medical work, was created in 1908.

The Hospital's first X-ray machine was installed in 1900. In 1910 a full-fledged Department of Radiology was formed, and in 1924 the department was subdivided into separate branches for (a) radiography and (b) X-ray and radium therapy.

In 1910 the three-story Out-Patient Building, which had been completed in 1904 was altered to a five-story building, and the Nurses' Home was enlarged from a six-story to an eight-story building. At the same time, new isolation wards were erected on the roof of the Medical Building.

A Dental Department was established for the benefit of in-patients in 1910; this work was extended to the Out-Patient Department in 1925.

An orthopedic surgeon and a physio-therapist were named in 1911.

Roof wards for outdoor treatment were erected on the Medical and Surgical Pavilions in 1912.

The Hospital in 1912 accepted a fund "for the advancement of preventive medicine." A "health class" for children was promptly established.

In 1913 the erection of seven additional buildings south of 100th Street was begun; four of these buildings were occupied in 1915, and three, namely, the Private Pavilion, the Children's Pavilion and the Auditorium, were completed in the spring of 1922. With these additions, the Hospital was able to care for 650 patients.

The first of a series of lectureship funds was established in 1913. These funds provide honoraria for distinguished visiting lecturers.

Electro-cardiography was instituted in 1915.

In 1917, Mount Sinai Hospital became a constituent member of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies, which was organized in that year.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Until 1917, tonsillectomies were performed in the Dispensary, often without anesthesia; in the year mentioned, a "tonsil and adenoid" ward, with a fully equipped operating room, was opened.

A Mount Sinai Hospital Unit, organized as a section of the Medical Department of the United States Army, was sent to France in 1918.

Post-Graduate medical instruction was formally organized in 1923, in affiliation with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University.

A permanent fund for the support of medical research was inaugurated in 1925, prior to which research was precariously supported by occasional donations.

The construction of a new school and residence building for the School of Nursing, fronting on 98th Street, between Fifth and Madison Avenues, was begun in 1925 and completed in 1927; the residence accommodates 490 nurses.

Minutes of the Annual Meeting of
THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL OF THE CITY OF
NEW YORK

HELD MARCH 25th, 1928

The Acting President, Mr. Maurice Frankfort, called the meeting to order.

On motion duly made, seconded and unanimously carried, the reading of the minutes of the Annual Meeting, held March 27th, 1927, and the reading of the Treasurer's Report were dispensed with.

Mr. Albert Forsch read the report of the Acting President.

On motion made by Mr. Sol. Kohn, and duly seconded by Mr. Morris Sternbach, it was unanimously

RESOLVED that the Report of the Acting President of The Mount Sinai Hospital of the City of New York be, in all respects, adopted and approved and that all the acts and proceedings of the Officers and of the Board of Trustees of said Mount Sinai Hospital during the year just ended be and they hereby are ratified, adopted, confirmed and approved.

Dr. M. C. Winternitz, Dean of the School of Medicine, Yale University, addressed the meeting on the subject of: "Medical Education and Research in the Modern Hospital."

On motion duly made, seconded and unanimously carried, the meeting adjourned.

DEWITT MILLHAUSER,
Secretary.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

This is the seventy-fifth annual meeting of the institution known since 1886 as The Mount Sinai Hospital of the City of New York. The first annual meeting was held in 1853, at which time it was reported that the "Jews' Hospital" had been organized and incorporated. However, no patients were received until June, 1855. The Hospital's first building was a small private dwelling in 28th Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, where 28 patients could be accommodated. The Hospital's present capacity is 669 beds, with prospects of an early increase to 750 beds.

During the year 1927, we made another significant step toward the accomplishment of the larger Mount Sinai Hospital program. No doubt the most important event of the year was the opening in September of the new School of Nursing, which can house approximately 500 persons, and which has the complete installation and equipment of a most modern School. The thanks of the Board were expressed to the Building and Equipment Committees, to the architects, Messrs. Kohn & Butler, and to Messrs. Lit Bros., and Erlanger, Blumgart & Co. for their splendid co-operation in connection with equipping the new building. Dr. Goldwater's wide experience has been helpful in making this building the last word in training schools.

Of the subscriptions toward the cost of the land, building and equipment, the Trustees of Mount Sinai contributed approximately 60 per cent, and other friends of the Hospital the balance.

We own a lot having a frontage of 100 feet on Fifth Avenue and 300 feet on the south side of 99th Street, which was secured at low cost for the future expansion of the Hospital. But the erection of new buildings is not contemplated in the near future. Consideration is being given, however, to remodelling the West Building, formerly the old Private Pavilion, and to arrange it for semi-private service for paying patients. The need for such accommodation is urgent; all recent hospital literature stresses the point that for the well-to-do and for the poor, the best hospital care is available, but that those of moderate means have been overlooked. The present plans for the West Building include space for housing approximately 100 semi-private patients and a nurses' infirmary of 12 beds, besides a complete and separate operating unit.

In an institution as large as ours, with a medical and allied staff of over 500 people, exclusive of nurses, there are necessarily some changes in the personnel in the course of a year. Since the publication of the last Annual Report, the following appointments and promotions were made on the Attending Staff:

Drs. George Baelr, Leo Kessel and Bernard S. Oppenheimer were appointed Physicians to the Hospital.

Dr. Richard Lewisohn was appointed Surgeon to the Hospital.

Dr. Walter L. Horn was appointed Associate Otologist.

Dr. M. S. Bender was appointed Adjunct Laryngologist.

Dr. Samuel Karelitz was appointed Adjunct Pediatrician.

Dr. Louis Gross was made Director of Laboratories.

Other appointments were:

Dr. David Cohn as Assistant Chemist.

Dr. Sadao Otani as Assistant Pathologist.

Mr. Carl B. Braestrup as Physicist in Radio-Therapy Department.

We are much pleased to record the signal and well-deserved honors paid to Dr. Edwin Beer, who at Brussels was awarded the gold medal of the International Surgical Conference, and to Dr. Joseph Brettauer, who was elected President of the American Gynecological Society.

After an active ward service of more than thirty years, Dr. A. V. Moschcowitz relinquished the routine duties of an attending surgeon and joined the consulting staff; he continues, however, to be as active as ever in the Private Pavilion and private wards. The services rendered to Mount Sinai by Dr. Moschcowitz are so valuable and so meritorious that it is difficult to express our appreciation adequately. He has given generously of his time and of his great talent. Through his unfailing devotion and his uniform courtesy, he has endeared himself not only to his colleagues and to the Trustees but to the patients and employees. We are proud to have had for so many years the privilege of his valuable co-operation, and we hope for a long time to come to have the benefit of his wise counsel.

For personal reasons, and much to our regret, Drs. Herbert L. Celler and Albert A. Epstein, Associate Physicians who have contributed much to the Hospital and to medical science, severed their connection with the Hospital, after many years of faithful and unselfish service.

Dr. Harold T. Hyman resigned as Adjunct Physician, and Dr. Joseph Friedman retired from the position of Assistant Chemist.

In April of last year Dr. Henry Koplik died. He was a member of the visiting staff for over thirty years, and since his retirement in 1919 had been a valued member of the consulting staff. During his long connection with the Hospital, he added greatly to its fame by the introduction of scientific methods in the treatment of the diseases of children. For one of his original observations, he became world-renowned.

Through untimely death, we lost the valuable services of Dr. Samuel Stern, for many years Radiotherapist to the Hospital.

The Trustees learned with deep regret, in September, of the death of Dr. A. B. Berk, former Adjunct Dermatologist.

During the year 1927, Mount Sinai Hospital cared for 12,089 patients, of whom 2,465 were in the Guggenheim Private Pavilion. This means a total of 192,492 hospital days. The number of consultations in the Lehman Dispensary was 200,737.

We are in the habit of writing to each discharged Private Pavilion patient a letter requesting frank comment on their experience while in the Hospital. It is a source of great satisfaction to follow the chorus of praise and gratitude which answering letters bring. As to the rare complaints which reach us now and then, these are studied most carefully and we are only too glad to adopt every helpful suggestion for improving the service. We receive also, entirely unprompted by us, many letters of thanks from grateful ward patients.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

For the unselfish devotion and efficient service given to all these sick people, we are indebted to the members of our professional staff, and without fear of contradiction, we can say that no body of men gives more freely of its time or great ability to the cause of humanity than does this group. The vigor with which the scientific work of the Hospital is being prosecuted is reflected by the following figures:

Apart from the full-time paid heads, their paid assistants and technicians, the Lewisohn Laboratory has, during the year 1927, extended its privileges to 67 physicians attached to Mount Sinai Hospital, to 5 Fellows, and to 3 physicians not attached to the Hospital. Of these, 22 assisted in routine work; the remainder were occupied exclusively in special studies or research work. From January 1st, 1927 to December 31st, 1927, twenty-five publications were issued; these papers deal with important advances in intricate immunological phenomena, new diagnostic procedures, new micro-chemical methods which are of great value in the chemical determinations of small quantities of biological fluids, and on the newer aspects of pathological processes taking place in the body in disease.

There are fifty-one problems under observation in the Hospital Laboratories at the present time. The most outstanding ones deal with the question of pernicious anemia, with the pathogenesis of tuberculosis, typhoid fever, rheumatic fever, gastric and duodenal ulcers, and with certain obscure blood diseases. In several of these conditions efforts are being made to establish the etiology and if possible to procure some form of therapy.

Once more we take the opportunity to remind our friends of the importance, to a hospital like Mount Sinai, of the control of liberal funds which may be applied, from time to time, toward the support of extra-routine studies both in clinical and laboratory medicine, and for the extension of teaching. A research fund has been started, which we hope to see steadily augmented.

A notable event was the delivery of the William Henry Welch Lectures for 1927 by Prof. Richard Willstätter, who on April 13th and 14th, before a distinguished audience assembled in this Auditorium, discussed "Recent Advances in Enzyme Research."

Systematic courses of instruction were offered, as usual, to medical graduates, the instruction being given by staff members under the auspices of Columbia University. For the Fall period, October 17th to December 10th, 1927, 89 registered students took advantage of one or more of the 33 separate courses offered. The physicians who offer these courses render a valuable public service, which their professional colleagues evidently appreciate.

In November death took from us our colleague, Mr. Jacob Emsheimer, who died after a prolonged illness. He was a Trustee for twenty-five years. No Trustee ever had the interest of the Hospital more at heart than he. The resolutions adopted by the Board and embodied in this Report set forth the quality of his service.

We regret to chronicle the death, last January, of Brigadier-General S. Herbert Wolfe, who for ten years was a Trustee of Mount Sinai, of which he served two years as Second Vice-President.

The Board of Trustees has elected to fill the vacancies for term ending March, 1934, the following:

Leo Arnstein	Maurice Frankfort
Hugo Blumenthal	Ernst Rosenfeld
James Speyer

The following new Trustees were elected to fill vacancies:

Mr. Louis W. Abrons.....	for the term ending March, 1930
Mr. Leonard A. Hockstader....	" " " " 1931
Mr. Edwin M. Berolzheimer....	" " " " 1931
Mr. Fred H. Greenebaum.....	" " " " 1933

In the course of 1927 five Trustees completed twenty-five years of membership on the Board. In the order of their election in 1902, these Trustees were: Leo Arnstein, James Speyer, the late Jacob Emsheimer, Hugo Blumenthal and Charles A. Wimpfheimer.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Our President, Mr. George Blumenthal, completed in 1927, thirty-five years of continuous service on the Hospital Board.

In order to commemorate the valuable services of the above Trustees, the Board caused medals to be struck, which bear the following inscription :

PRESENTED IN GRATEFUL RECOGNITION OF TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF DISTINGUISHED SERVICE
1902-1927

The design was executed by Mr. Weinman and is reproduced in this Report. Silver medals were presented by the President to the above-named first five Trustees, and a gold medal, appropriately dated, was presented to Mr. George Blumenthal on behalf of the Board by Mr. Leo Arnstein, who in touching and well-chosen words pointed out that Mr. Blumenthal's services to Mount Sinai have been pre-eminent and that the services of our distinguished President have left an impression beyond that of any other Trustee who has served Mount Sinai in the seventy-five years of its existence.

Surely no other man has ever done as much for Mount Sinai as has Mr. George Blumenthal. In April of this year, he will celebrate his seventieth birthday, and the Board intends to convey to him on that occasion the assurance of its warm affection and deep admiration. May we have the privilege and pleasure of his wise counsel for many more years.

Deep appreciation is also expressed to Mr. Henry F. Wolff, Chairman of the Committee on Rules and Legal Matters, to whose great ability and yeoman service the Hospital is under heavy obligation. He has devoted an unlimited amount of time during the past year to Mount Sinai's affairs.

Attention must again be called to the ever-increasing expense of operating the Hospital. The high cost of all food products, alike for patients, nurses and employees, together with the present high prices of drugs, and other articles required by the Hospital, plus the constantly increasing salaries and wages of employees, and furthermore, the costly repairs and replacements annually required in so extensive a plant as ours—all these factors cause mounting budgets.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The expenditures for current purposes of the Hospital including the School of Nursing, the Social Service Department and the Ladies' Auxiliary Society in 1927 amounted to.....$1,692,272.03

Our total receipts, applicable to current expenditures, aggregated 1,583,545.47

+ Leaving a deficit for the year 1927 of.....	$108,726.56 toward which Hon. William N. Cohen, one of the most loyal friends of Mount Sinai generously
+ contributed	5,000.00

(See note at end of page 42)

The Foregoing Receipts in 1927 Included:

From Federation to the Hospital Group.....	$437,291.25
“ United Hospital Fund to the Hospital.....	51,080.67
“ City of New York to the Hospital.....	45,558.00

During the past year, Federation succeeded in increasing its receipts and pledges to a sum in excess of five million dollars, which makes a gratifying record in its honorable history. As one of the constituent societies, it is a pleasure for Mount Sinai to pay tribute to this splendid piece of work, and to pledge continued and whole-hearted co-operation. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on Federation's able President, Mr. Sol Stroock; on Dr. Solomon Lowenstein, the Executive Director; on the Business Men's Council, and the many workers who spared neither time nor effort to make this brilliant result possible. Every member of the community should be appreciative of the unselfish work done, and we bespeak the continued support and devotion of all. Mr. Stroock has agreed to continue his leadership for another year and we feel satisfied that Federation's success this year will exceed even that of last year. And, while Federation has not yet reached the point where it can supply the entire financial needs of all its affiliated societies, we realize that it gives to each what it can in a broadminded spirit, judging fairly the requirements of all.

A large number of ladies representing Federation's Ladies' Auxiliary, under the leadership of Mrs. Sidney C. Borg, recently visited the Hospital. Such visits as these are extremely useful and cannot fail to make the public better acquainted with the activities and needs of the constituent societies.

We received in the past year many evidences of good will and interest in Mount Sinai in the form of legacies, endowment of beds and funds for special purposes. These generous gifts enable us to carry on the work on a larger and more efficient scale and in a spirit of humility we accept these offerings as being in part a vote of confidence in the policies which the Board has adopted in its administration of the Hospital.

Subsequent to those mentioned at the last Annual Meeting, and up to the time of preparing this report, there were received from legacies, and from friends of the institution the following gifts:

Mr. James Speyer—For Mount Sinai Alumni Fund Income	200.00

We also received from our Trustee, Mr. Philip J. Goodhart, two oxygen tents which are of inestimable value in the treatment of sufferers from pneumonia. Dr. Bernard S. Oppenheimer presented the Hospital with a Cambridge Portable Electro-Cardiograph in memory of Prof. Willem Einthoven.

Generosity such as all the foregoing gifts show, acts as a stimulus to the Board of Trustees, and to those who so graciously remembered Mount Sinai, we tender the assurance of our sincere gratitude.

But, might we be permitted to point out, as was done on previous occasions, that Mount Sinai is unfortunately by no means the rich institution which part of the public supposes it to be. There is a mistaken idea in the community that Mount Sinai has abundant endowment resources. We much regret that this is not at all the case, and in order that Mount Sinai may maintain its position in the hospital world and contribute its share to the advancement of scientific medicine it urgently requires increased endowments.

The most important adjunct of the Hospital is the School of Nursing. Next to the skill of the doctor, the efficiency of the nurse plays a most important part in the treatment of the patient. Our thanks are due to its President, Mr. Hugo Blumenthal, for all the work he is doing for the School, which is so ably directed by Miss Elizabeth A. Greener.

Deep appreciation for the great services rendered to the institution during the past year is due to the Social Service Department under the direction of Mrs. Alfred A. Cook, ably assisted by Miss Fanny Lissauer. This activity of the Hospital is becoming more indispensable every year.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Society has, as usual, handled most admirably its ever-increasing work, and we wish to express our grateful appreciation to its President, Mrs. Emil Frenkel, and the ladies associated with her.

In October last, Dr. Goldwater, our Director, visited England on the invitation of an important committee of King Edward's Hospital Fund for London. More recently, he was asked by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York to act as advisory expert in connection with the reconstruction of King's County Hospital, and he is constantly rendering similar service to hospitals all over the country. To Dr. Goldwater we are as usual greatly indebted for his efforts in the interest of our institution.

Among Dr. Goldwater's energetic co-workers are the Associate Director of the Hospital, Dr. Joseph Turner, and the Assistant Director, Mr. Louis Miller, Jr., both of whom deserve the institution's warm thanks for their unremitting efforts. Dr. Stephen Manheimer has recently joined the administration staff as an Assistant Director, replacing Dr. J. J. Golub, who resigned to become Superintendent of a Brooklyn hospital.

It is a pleasure to report the efficient and faithful services rendered by the heads of departments:

Mr. Robert Phillips, Chief Engineer.

Miss Mary E. Erwin, Supervisor of the Private Pavilion.

Miss May M. Slator, Supervisor of the Out-Patient Department.

Miss Adeline Wood, Supervising Dietitian.

Mrs. Ada Altman, Matron.

Mr. George T. Cook, Chief Clerk and Auditor.

Mr. Isidore Rogin, Chief Pharmacist.

Our thanks for devotion to the institution are due to the junior officers on the supporting staffs in all the departments and it is in no perfunctory manner that we express our appreciation every year to all these groups, for we feel keenly our obligation to them all.

Our cordial relations with the City authorities and our sister institutions are one of the pleasantest features of our work. Their helpful co-operation is gladly recorded here.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Mr. Alfred Lowenthal, a warm friend of the Hospital, has kindly contributed again, as in former years, his services as an expert volunteer technical photographer in the wards.

An institution like Mount Sinai can never stand still. Its progress must be continuous or a retrograde movement will set in. The Trustees are fully alive to this situation and are trying their utmost to meet it, but they cannot do it alone, and they, therefore, bespeak the continued encouragement of the Community promising that they on their part will never cease in their efforts fully to deserve its support.

MAURICE FRANKFORT,
Acting President.

NOTE:—

Subsequent to the Annual Meeting, Mr. and Mrs. George Blumenthal most generously paid in full the remaining deficit of $103,726.56 mentioned on page 36.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF JACOB EMSHEIMER

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of The Mount Sinai Hospital, held November 30th, 1927, announcement having been made of the death of Mr. Jacob Emsheimer, the members present decided to express their sentiments in the following minute:

"We have heard with the deepest regret of the death, this day, of Jacob Emsheimer, who served as a member of our Board for a period of twenty-five years.

"Throughout his long service, and up to the very last, notwithstanding his ripe age of 82 years, the call of the Hospital for any service desired of him was a command and he never failed to give on every occasion the best that was in his power.

"We, who worked with him in this communal work, feel a deep sense of personal loss in his removal from our midst."

It was resolved that the flag of the Hospital be placed at half-mast until after the funeral and that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased.

GEORGE BLUMENTHAL,
President.

DEWITT MILLHAUSER,
Secretary.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF GENERAL S. HERBERT WOLFE

At a meeting of the Trustees of The Mount Sinai Hospital, held December 31st, 1927, announcement having been made of the death of General S. Herbert Wolfe, who served the Hospital for ten years as Trustee, Secretary and Second Vice-President, it was resolved to record the sentiments of the Board in the following minute:

"We have heard with the deepest regret of the untimely death of Brigadier-General S. Herbert Wolfe, who, during the period from 1911 to 1921, served our institution as Trustee, Secretary and Second Vice-President.

"During his service to the Hospital he was an enthusiastic devotee to the interests of the institution and its patients, and our appreciation of his splendid work is best evidenced by his election to the Second Vice-Presidency after his service with us of only a few years.

"General Wolfe was an outstanding figure in the highly technical profession to which he devoted his life, and his greatest achievement was the organization of the pension system adopted by our country for those who served in the World War.

"In his death the community and our city have lost a devoted citizen and the Hospital, notwithstanding his retirement from active service, a devoted friend.

"To his bereaved family we express our heartfelt sympathy in the great loss which they have sustained."

It was resolved that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased.

LEO ARNSTEIN,

Acting President.

DEWITT MILLHAUSER,

Secretary.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF MRS. ARTHUR LORSCH

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of The Mount Sinai Hospital, held April 27th, 1928, announcement having been made of the death of Etta C. (Mrs. Arthur) Lorsch, the members present decided to express their sentiments in the following minute:

"We have learnt with great sorrow of the untimely death of Etta C. Lorsch, a member of our Board, who passed away this morning after a long period of illness.

"Although serving Mount Sinai as a Trustee for only two years, she had for a long period of time been close to the Hospital through her activities in our Social Service Auxiliary.

"As a member of our Board, she showed a remarkably quick grasp of the many difficult problems arising in the conduct of the institution, and no service in the interest of the Hospital or of its patients was too great a burden for her.

"As an associate in our work she had impressed every one of us by her keen intelligence and sound judgment, and personally she had endeared herself to us by her splendid personality especially marked by an exceptional sweetness of disposition, and her many other sterling qualities most appreciated by those who knew her best.

"To her deeply bereaved family we express our heart-felt sympathy in the great loss which they have sustained."

It was resolved that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be tendered to the members of the family and that the flag of the Hospital be flown at half-mast until after the funeral.

REPORT OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE MEDICAL STAFF FOR THE YEAR 1927

It is with pardonable pride that the President of the Medical Board submits the following report of the many activities of the medical and surgical staff of our Hospital. These activities have included not only the excellent care of the patients in their charge (the prime object of this Hospital) but the publication during the year of the results of numerous and varied clinical and laboratory researches. A striking feature of our work in the wards continues to be the close co-operation between the various services; a co-operation which not only redounds to the better care of the patient by bringing to his aid the collective experience of all the staff, but is mutually educative. In this regard, too, the interest, the stimulation, and the ability of our new laboratory staff have been of immense help to us.

Lectures: During the year, the following lectures of general medical interest were delivered in the Blumenthal Auditorium by distinguished guests before large and representative audiences:

Dr. Donald D. Van Slyke, of the Rockefeller Institute, delivered a lecture on "Urea Excretion in Nephritis."

Dr. James Pal, Director of the First Medical Division of the Allgemeines Krankenhaus, of Vienna, spoke on "Vascular Crises."

Professor Richard Willstätter delivered the Welch Lecture. The topic was "Some Recent Advances in Enzyme Research."

Dr. Antoine Lacassagne, Assistant Director of the Curie Institute, of Paris, spoke on "Radio-therapy of Malignant Disease by X-rays and Tele-radium Therapy, as carried out at the Curie Institute."

Professor E. Frank, of Breslau, delivered a lecture on "The Purpuras."

The Laboratories: The laboratory organization was strengthened when Drs. Gregory Schwartzman and Michael Heidelberger assumed charge of the departments of bacteriology and chemistry, respectively. These appointments completed the organization of the Central Laboratory with heads of departments on a full-time basis. One of the first results of this change was the inauguration of an improved technic and practice in the routine examinations and in the experimental work.

The following are the titles of articles which were published from the Hospital Laboratories during 1927:

1. The Diagnosis and Treatment of Hemorrhagic Diseases.
2. Malignant Follicle Diseases of the Lymph Nodes and Spleen.
3. Thrombosis and Thrombophlebitis of Renal Vein.
4. Metastatic Phenomena in Pulmonary Infections.
5. Streptothrix Infection of the Lung with Bacteriemia.
6. Fat Necrosis of the Female Breast.
7. Metastatic Tumors of the Brain.
8. Massive Cerebral Hemorrhage.
9. A New Step in Glial Stains of Cajal.
10. Round Cell Infiltration in Encephalitis.
11. A Powerful Lytic Principle Against Erysipelas Streptococci.
12. Studies on Streptococcus Bacteriophage. I—A Powerful Principle Against Streptococci of Erysipelas Origin.
13. The Influence of Bacteriophage Upon Agglutination of Hemolytic Streptococci.
14. Micro Colorimetric Studies. I—A Molybdic Acid Stannous Chloride Reagent. The Micro Estimation of Phosphate and Calcium in Pus, Plasma, and Spinal Fluid.
15. Calcium Content of Pus.
16. A New Aid in the Diagnosis of Mastoiditis.

25. Blood Bilirubin in Ectopic Pregnancy.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

Twenty-two lectures were given by men connected with the laboratory staff, six post-graduate courses were conducted, many volunteers, voluntary assistants and interns were trained, and weekly clinical pathological demonstrations were carried on.

These clinical pathological demonstrations continued to attract wide attention among the profession, and although the new demonstration room seemed adequate when completed two years ago, its normal capacity of 125 was stretched to accommodate as many as 235 visitors several times. As many were turned away for lack of space, it seems fairly certain that if more space were available double this number of physicians would attend these demonstrations.

It is felt that the new organization in the laboratories has been enabled to make a distinct step forward in the matter of training physicians along scientific lines and it is a source of satisfaction that this training has been extended not only to physicians attached to the Mount Sinai Hospital but also to physicians coming from different parts of the United States.

Surgery: A report was prepared for the International Congress, which met at Brussels, covering the results obtained in a large series of bladder tumors by methods developed in our institution. In addition to this, a large series of tumors of the kidney, which have been followed on this service, was brought together and published. Perhaps, the most outstanding fact in this publication was the low mortality of the operative treatment of these cases. The author of this report was signally honored by the International Urological Society.

The experimental work started by one of the research fellows in the investigation of gastro-intestinal disease has progressed to a considerable extent. The amount of work accomplished by the service for surgical gastro-intestinal cases has been stupendous.

The Neuro-surgical Service has been taxed to the limit in the care, particularly, of cases of brain and spinal cord tumors. This service has assumed such proportions as seriously to strain the facilities which the Hospital has heretofore accorded it.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

A new arrangement in the assignment of patients for group study substituted the study of surgery of the liver, spleen and bile duct for the study of surgery of the thyroid.

Gynecology: In addition to the usual clinical activities, the Gynecological Service was occupied with the following problems:

(a) A very detailed investigation of the sinking time of red blood cells, its value in prognosis and in post-operative course.

(b) The continuation of the work on icterus index with reference to its aid in diagnosis of ectopic pregnancy.

(c) The development of a new and safe plastic operation for formation of an artificial vagina.

(d) A study of vaginal fluor with reference to the degree of contamination.

(e) The use of X-ray, in collaboration with the radio-therapeutic department, in inducing therapeutic abortion in cases not suitable for operation and in whom permanent sterility is indicated.

(f) Stimulation of the ovaries with X-ray when at least some cyclical blood reaction is noted.

(g) In collaboration with the laboratories—

(1) A study of the morphology of the blood in menstruation and other uterine hemorrhages.

(2) An amplification of the studies on the female sex hormone, especially its diagnostic value and its value in outlining proper treatment.

(3) A study of the methods of tubal implantation to relieve various forms of sterility.

Two members of the Gynecological staff have assisted in pathological diagnosis of operative specimens in the laboratories.

Medicine: The investigative activities on the Medical Service were temporarily curtailed by the changes in the medical staffs. The "Studies of Graves' Disease and the Involuntary Nervous System" were continued, and four new publications appeared on (1) the Relationship to the Female Sex Hormone; (2) Diagnosis; (3) the End Results in Spontaneous Courses, and (4) Subtotal Thyroidectomy on Patients who had been treated with and without Compound Solution of Iodine.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

This completes the plan of study that was laid down in January, 1921, and the Service is now in a position to crystallize its views on the management of Graves' Disease.

The results of the work on lobar pneumonia were also published. Further work on this subject has been discontinued for the present.

Advances were made in the study of (1) arteriosclerosis and hypertension, especially of the nervous phenomena and convulsions associated with high blood pressure, and (2) of extrasystoles in human beings.

New aspects of the disease called Gaucher's splenomegaly presented themselves; these will be reported, in conjunction with reports of cases in the Children's Service, at one of the National Meetings this spring. It is planned to have an exhibit in this field at the same time.

Other papers and studies by various members of the staff, included:

- (a) Studies in Acid Excretion.
- (b) The Diabetic and Medicinal Treatment of Phosphaturia.
- (c) Problems in Metabolism.
- (d) The Diagnosis of Medical Diseases of the Kidney.
- (e) Congenital Pyloric Stenosis in Adult Life.
- (f) Prognosis and Medical Treatment of Ulcerative Colitis.
- (g) Diaphragmatic Hernia.
- (h) Blood Cultures in Ulcerative Colitis.
- (i) Pains of Parietal Origin Simulating Visceral Disease.
- (j) Hypertension of the Lesser Circulation.

In the gastro-intestinal clinic, investigations on the following subjects have been conducted:

- (a) The use of histamine and neutral red in the diagnosis of achylia gastrica.
- (b) The effect of atropine on gastric secretion particularly in patients with partial gastrectomy.
- (c) The evaluation of the Meltzer-Lyons test in the light of cholecystography.

- (d) Clinical syndromes after partial gastrectomy.
- (e) Gastric symptoms associated with pelvic disease.
- (f) Physiological constitutional disturbances in patients with gastric and duodenal ulcers.
- (g) The effect of partial gastrectomy on experimentally produced ulcers (Mann method).

In the field of gastro-enterology an important book on "Affections of the Stomach" was published by a member of the staff.

Other work begun in 1927 and the results of which will shortly be published, includes the following:

- (a) Correlation of Clinical Pictures with Pathological Types of Nephritis.
- (b) The Arterial Supply of the Kidney in Nephritis and its Relation to the Clinical Pictures.
- (c) The Arterial Supply of the Polycystic Kidney and its Relation to the Clinical Pictures.
- (d) The Fate of Tartaric Acid in the Body.
- (e) Further Studies in Acid Excretion.
- (f) The Influence of Diet upon the Urinary Alkaline Tide.

The medical follow-up work voluntarily assumed by the Department and begun in September, 1925, was taken over by the new Hospital Department for Follow-up. Before this transfer, 315 cases had been followed. Of these, 96 (30 per cent) died, 48 more (15 per cent) were lost to subsequent observation for various reasons (such as moving away from New York.) The high mortality is attributable to the fact that only the severer cases and those presenting unusual features were followed. The available facilities did not permit the follow-up of patients who were discharged from the Hospital as "well." Moreover, a fairly high percentage of the total number followed up were cardiac cases, as a special study was being made of angina pectoris. Naturally the expectation of mortality in the cardiac group is higher than in the miscellaneous non-cardiac group of patients. The follow-up clinic gave no treatment of any kind; nevertheless, the response and co-operation of the patients were unusually fine. The patients appreciated the interest that was taken in them, and some of them kept in touch with the physicians, even at times when they moved to places as distant as Texas. In this way it was possible to keep a consecutive record of the progress of these patients, who otherwise would have been completely lost to observation. It is hoped by resuming this work on a larger scale and with better physical facilities, to determine the accuracy of our diagnostic methods, the comparative value of different therapeutic procedures, the natural history of various diseases, the prognosis of patients not only as to life, but in respect to subsequent activity, and economic restitution.

By an arrangement with a central association a system of cardiac records has been introduced in the adult and children's cardiac clinic. This, it is hoped, will make the future compilation of statistics from such records easier than was possible from the former plan of taking a narrative history, and in addition will permit comparison and consolidation with similar records prepared in other cardiac clinics using the same system of records.

Two oxygen tents, installed through the generosity of one of the Trustees, have given excellent results. It is hoped that the experimental work now being done in connection with the construction of an oxygen chamber will soon warrant the installation of such a room in the Hospital.

The number of electro-cardiograph examinations in the Cardiographic Laboratory has materially increased and now average 2,000 annually, each of which consists of three separate records. Since its opening, 13,000 examinations have been made and carefully catalogued. Investigations either within the laboratory, or in collaboration with other services were carried out on:

- (a) The effect of salicylates on the electro-cardiogram in rheumatic carditis.
- (b) The mechanism of angina pectoris.
- (c) The changes in the circulation associated with obesity.

- (d) Functional tests of the heart in obese patients, and changes in their circulatory reaction on reduction of weight.
- (e) The so-called heart hormone.
- (f) The mechanism of gallop rhythm.
- (g) Venous pulsations with particular reference to the lesions of the tricuspid valve and auricular fibrillation.

On the whole it may be said that the routine work has increased in quantity and quality on the medical service, and the interest in investigative work has also increased, but the opportunities in time, physical space, and equipment are still very limited. It is perhaps remarkable how much is done on the medical service in spite of these conditions.

Neurology: Besides continuing the study of encephalitis, and work on radiculitis and radiculo-myelitis, various members of the Neurological staff contributed papers on the following subjects:

- (a) Cerebellar Symptomatology Evaluation on the Basis of Intracerebellar and Extracerebellar Lesions.
- (b) Ein Beitrag zur Klinik and Pathologie der Dystrophia Myotonica.
- (c) The Sciatic Syndrome.
- (d) The Phylogeny of Posture of Normal and Abnormal Posture. (In preparation).
- (e) Experience with Encephalography via the Lumbar Route.
- (f) Loss of Vibratory Sense as an early Diagnostic Sign of Combined Sclerosis.
- (g) High Cervical Cord Lesions in the Guise of Combined System Disease.
- (h) Chapter on Affections of the Cerebral and Spinal Blood Vessels.
- (i) The Forebrain.
- (j) Diabetic Exophthalmic Dystosis with a consideration of the Osseous Dystrophies.
- (k) The Nervous Mechanism of Diabetes Insipidus.
- (l) The Vegetative Nervous System with Anthropometric Studies.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

- (m) Peroneal Form of Progressive Muscular Atrophy.
- (n) Epidemic Encephalitis.
- (o) Compression of the Spinal Roots and Cord. (In preparation).
- (p) Intraspinal Lipiodology.
- (q) Anomalies and other alterations of Spinal Cord Vessels, giving rise to Signs and Symptoms of Spinal Cord Tumor.
- (r) Foreign Protein Therapy in Retrobulbar Neuritis.
- (s) Acute Brain Tumor.
- (t) A clinico-pathological study of Communicating Hydrocephalus.
- (u) Tuberous Sclerosis in Early Infancy.
- (v) Chronic Progressive Subcortical Encephalopathy.
- (w) Subacute Ependymitis, simulating Brain Tumor.
- (x) Pneumococcus meningitis recovery, following draining of Spinal Fluid as a therapeutic measure.
- (y) History of the Psycho-analytic Movement in America.

Pediatrics: The past year witnessed considerable activity on the Pediatric Service. A clinic for diabetic children was organized, and although the number of patients treated is still small, the work is progressing well. The clinic is conducted by members of the pediatric staff, a dietitian, a social worker and clinic nurses. Children and their mothers are instructed in the accurate control of diet, are taught to examine their own urine and to administer insulin to themselves. The results in the first eight months of its organization have been very gratifying.

From the clinic for the study of protein sensitization several voluminous and important publications appeared during the year.

The installation of a fluoroscope for the sole use of the pediatric department has proven very helpful both for the study of Hospital and Out-Patient Department cases. A member of the Radiographic Department, who is also on the Pediatric staff, is in charge of this service. This arrangement permits a much more useful liaison between the departments than was possible heretofore.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

A number of papers on the subject of metabolism in children, including the effect of thyroid therapy and the study of the relationship of the basal metabolism to body surfaces were published. Ketosis and sugar tolerance have also been the subject of investigation.

The Health Clinic continues to attract wide attention.

Experimental work on questions relating to insulin is being continued in the laboratory.

A survey and study of the cases attending the Children's Cardiac Clinic during the past ten years is in progress; this work is being assisted by a special worker assigned by the Social Service Department.

Papers on various clinical subjects too numerous to mention in detail have appeared during the year.

Dermatology: On the Dermatological Service the treatment of Lupus Erythematosus with gold and sodium thiosulphate has been carried on about one year with results which on the whole have been very satisfactory. A large number of patients with acne have been treated with intravenous injections of calcium with apparently very good results. If this method of treatment proves successful it may do away with the use of X-ray and possible dangers associated with this form of therapy. The treatment of congenital syphilis in the special clinic held on Thursday afternoons has continued; there are now several hundred cases under observation on whom statistics are being gathered to show the results of these treatments.

Diagnostic biopsies have been made in increasing numbers with the assistance and co-operation of the pathological laboratory for microscopical examination and report. Their kind co-operation has served to clear up a number of unusual skin manifestations.

Laryngology: In connection with the work done on this Service, the study of sinuses in children has been taken up and a simple method of irrigating the sinuses, developed. In addition, there has also been developed and reported a new method of treating esophageal suppurations; lipiodol injections of the bronchi, as well as the study of pulmonary and bronchial lesions have been made.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

Ophthalmology: On this Service the position of Resident was created and the first appointment made during the past year. This addition to the Resident staff has resulted in a smoother functioning of the service and in an increase in the number of operative cases. A closer relationship between the Out-Patient Department and the Hospital service has been possible since the Resident is active in both departments. One member of the Eye Service has been assigned to the Central Laboratory to assist in the pathological work connected with these patients. All removed eye-balls are now being studied, mounted and preserved, and a very interesting collection will result. Studies have been begun in the determination of the pressure in the retinal arteries with special reference to the changes due to increased intracranial pressure. A preliminary report of this work has already been presented. Experimental and histological investigation of repair of muscles after strabismus operations, and the study of the optic nerve pathways in cases of tumor of the brain were begun.

Otology: On this Service, the original investigation reported last year of the calcium content of purulent discharge from soft parts and bone, has been continued, with promise of increasing value in its clinical application. Co-operation with the Pediatric Service in the study of gastro-enteric infection of obscure otitic origin in infants, has been of considerable importance. A method of diagnosis by means of puncturing the mastoid antrum is being investigated. Further studies in sinus thrombosis have been made from the clinical side and from original investigations of differential blood cultures. For improvement of the service, closer association of the Otological Service and the Out-Patient Department is desirable.

Radiology: The number of patients examined in the Department of Radiology during 1927 has again shown an increase as compared with the preceding year, which was greater than the increase of 1926 over 1925.

Many of the examinations which were made in combination with the surgical, neurological and some of the special services and which heretofore were more or less experimental have now become a matter of routine. These are particularly endolumbar ventriculography, lipiodol injections into the spine, chest and occasionally into the abdominal viscera, and the gall bladder examination by the Graham method.

The control of the removal of calculi from the kidneys while the patient is still on the operating table has been perfected and is being used considerably more frequently than in previous years.

Some experimental work, the results of which are not yet ready for publication, was done in connection with other departments. These deal with:

- (a) Physiological studies of the female genital tract with lipiodol.
- (b) Bronchial tree studies with radio-opaque materials.
- (c) Natural orifice canals for antrum disease in infants.
- (d) Mastoid puncture in infants.
- (e) Studies of the blood supply of heart and kidney specimens with injections of radio-opaque material.

Radio-therapy: In this Department the number of treatments given has decreased slightly (5,230 in 1926 to 4,950 in 1927). This was due to the installation of a superficial therapy X-ray machine and alterations in the treatment room, during which period many treatments were postponed.

The clinical conditions treated were practically of the same character as those treated in the previous year except for a slight increase in the number of new patients from the Skin Department.

The treatment of numerous generalized dermatological conditions by spleen or liver radiation or irradiation over the para-vertebral ganglia is being continued, but no definite statement can as yet be made regarding the results. Radio-therapy in various endocrine disturbances has come to be an established method of therapy and the number of these cases referred to us is increasing.

The treatment of diseases of the blood-forming organs continued with very good palliative results. The cases are followed up in close co-operation with the Department of Hematology.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

Our results in inducing therapeutic abortions by the Roentgen rays where surgery would be accompanied by considerable danger, have been very satisfactory. The number of patients referred is increasing. Two publications have been made so far; our series is the first in America to be treated by this method.

The treatment of the various types of neurological cases is being continued and good palliative results are obtained in many cases.

The treatment of malignancies has been accompanied by the same generally favorable results as in previous years. The original purchase of 100 mgm. of radium element enabled us to treat a greater number of patients and has shortened the waiting time of some of them. More radium is needed, and 150 mgm. more will be received in 1928.

This Department has sustained an irretrievable loss through the premature death of Dr. Samuel Stern, who had been radio-therapist to this Hospital for approximately 18 years. He was one of the earliest in this country to devote himself exclusively to this specialty, and quietly and without making extravagant claims he has helped advance this form of treatment. His valuable service and his genial personality are missed by every member of this department.

ISIDORE FRIESNER, M.D.,

President of the Medical Board.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

The 1926 Report of the Committee on Out-Patient Department contained, in addition to a summary of the year's work, a review of the activities of the department from its beginning, illustrating by a number of statistical tables the steady increase in quantity and quality of the medical work carried on and the increasing value of this work to the community. It is necessary at this time only to supplement last year's study with a summary of the work carried on in 1927.

The statistical reports are illuminating. The morning attendance was 92,844; the afternoon attendance was 107,893; and the total attendance, morning and afternoon, was 200,737. The old established clinics showed slight fluctuations in attendance of no portent. The increase in total clinic attendance for 1927, which exceeds all previous figures since the policy was adopted of limiting admissions to correspond to working facilities, is accounted for mainly by the increased activities of the thrombo-angiitis clinic and the dental clinic. The former moved to larger quarters on the first floor and doubled its admissions; the latter added afternoon sessions, and increased its consultations by more than 2,000.

Further examination of the Out-Patient Department statistics, tabulated elsewhere, shows substantial increase in the number of visits to the gastro-intestinal and cardiac clinics, and an increase in the number of arseno-therapy treatments. A steady decrease is noted in the visits of poliomyelitis cases, as the epidemic of a decade ago recedes into the distance. The greater demand for physio-therapy in the treatment of ambulant patients is indicated by an increase of over 1,500 visits to this department. Were the attendance figures calculated by methods followed in several other hospitals, which include in their totals visits to the department of radiology, radio-therapy, basal metabolism, and electrocardiography, our total figure would be increased by an additional 17,008 visits.

Over 41,000 of the visits were made by new patients. The ratio of new cases to the total number of consultations is one to five. In 1924, it was one to four, and in 1920, one to three. A satisfied patient returns to the clinic where adequate medical service is rendered, and a high ratio of repeat visits may be taken as an index of the quality of medical service, and of the sincerity of the efforts of the staff.

The clinics were open 301 days in the year, and the average number of physicians in daily attendance reached the new high total of 100. These doctors were supported by a daily attendance of 16 nurses and 20 volunteer aids, the work of the latter directed by the Social Service Department.

Although the present clinic buildings appeared long since to have reached their capacity, it was found possible to treat more patients by a more intensive use of existing facilities. The limit has apparently now been reached, and, except for slight fluctuations, any additional demand for Out-Patient Department service can be met only by appropriating additional space in neighboring buildings. With this need in mind, studies are being made with a view to the alteration of the old Nurses' Home and a utilization of several of its lower floors for the Out-Patient Department. It is hoped, at the same time, to provide space for a long-wanted central record room, and to give to the newly organized follow-up department much needed quarters of its own.

Whenever possible, the Out-Patient Department co-operates with other agencies in the community in promoting public health measures. When the American Society for the Control of Cancer carried on its intensive publicity campaign urging medical examinations for everyone suspecting the presence of cancer, the Out-Patient Department joined with others in receiving suspects and making the necessary examinations and reports.

The installation of the two fluoroscopes donated to the adult and children's clinics by Mr. Ernst Rosenfeld and Mr. William I. Walter, respectively, was completed early in the year, and their use by clinic patients begun under safeguards and rules promulgated by the head of the X-Ray Department.

During the year two new clinics were opened as subdivisions of the Medical Department. For asthma patients a special clinic was established on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings, and for the study and treatment of diseases of the blood, a hematology clinic to meet on Monday and Friday afternoons. Although these clinics, like the general medical clinics, are under the supervision of the Attending Physicians to the Hospital, they are manned by separate staffs and keep separate records.

The gynecology clinic was reorganized to conform to a new plan, in which the afternoon clinics continue to receive all types of gynecological patients, but which refers patients presenting particular problems to special morning clinics in charge of members of the attending staff especially interested in these problems, which include endocrine disturbances, cystoscopy, sterility, leukorrhoea, menopause, and dysmenorrhoea. By the more intensive study of cases which is possible in these special refer clinics, patients suffering from obscure diseases or ailments resistant to ordinary treatment will receive considerable benefit.

Many of the patients attending the clinics present conditions which have special teaching value to graduate students. A number of the physicians registered in the post-graduate courses given in dermatology, ophthalmoscopy, allergic diseases, gastro-enterology, gynecology, physio-therapy, cardiac diseases, conduct disorders, clinical pediatrics, and diseases of the circulatory system, received part or all of their instruction in the clinics.

A follow-up service, the installation of which, though accepted in principle by the Board many years ago, was postponed because of lack of budgetary means, was finally organized in the fall with the employment of a full-time staff under the direction of a Secretary for follow-up. At present the department is postponing the extension of its activities to all Hospital services pending the proposed expansion of the Out-Patient Department.

While many medical men seek dispensary appointments principally to gain knowledge and skill, some of the more ambitious use these appointments to pursue individual investigations. There is a belief on the part of a few that scientific knowledge cannot be augmented through dispensary work because dispensary patients cannot be controlled in the same manner as patients occupying hospital beds, but that this belief is not founded on fact is shown by the large number of valuable studies pursued last year in many of the clinics. Researches were conducted in the genito-urinary, gastro-intestinal, asthma, gynecological, thrombo-angiitis, pediatrics and other clinics.

The Hospital offers to its dispensary staff, after a short period, the privilege of using the rooms and facilities of the Private Pavilion in the treatment of their private cases. It also provides technical assistants to further the work in some clinics where a need is demonstrated. It provides a staff of permanent Social Service workers in clinics treating diseases usually associated with social problems in that they affect the well-being of others; such as tuberculosis, lues, cardiac diseases, etc. It gives money liberally to provide the equipment necessary for modern treatment. These are some of the measures adopted to promote a friendly attitude toward dispensary service on the part of the staff. The Board's Committee on Out-Patient Department has lent a sympathetic ear to every plan proposed during the year to improve the service and to make dispensary appointments attractive to the staff, and many of the suggestions have been adopted. To the many physicians who have given so freely of their skill, their interest, and their time, and to the staff of nurses, welfare workers, and volunteers who have assisted in this work, the Committee expresses again its sincere thanks.

Respectfully submitted,

ERNST ROSENFELD,

Chairman, Committee on Out-Patient Department.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LABORATORIES

Aside from the full-time, paid heads and their paid assistants and technicians, the Laboratory during 1927 has extended its privileges to 67 physicians attached to the Mount Sinai Hospital, to 5 Fellows, and to 3 physicians not attached to the Hospital. 22 of these have assisted in routine work; the remainder have been attached exclusively to carry on studies or research work.

Twenty-five articles were published, among which were papers dealing with the following subjects:

- (1) Important advances bearing on intricate immunological phenomena.
- (2) New diagnostic procedures.
- (3) New micro-chemical methods of great value in the determination of small quantities of biological fluids.
- (4) Newer aspects of pathological processes taking place in the body during disease.

In addition to these twenty-five already published articles, many papers are now in the hands of the publishers and will appear during the present year. These papers deal with the following:

- (1) Important investigations on blood diseases.
- (2) Further new diagnostic procedures; especially, refined methods of bacteriological diagnosis.
- (3) Diseases of the central nervous system.
- (4) The mechanism causing rheumatic heart disease.

At the present time there are fifty-one problems in hand. The most outstanding are those dealing with pernicious anemia, with pathogenesis of tuberculosis, with typhoid fever, rheumatic fever, gastric and duodenal ulcers, and with certain obscure blood diseases. Efforts are being made to establish the etiology of several of these conditions and to procure, if possible, some form of therapy.

The following are significant improvements that have been instituted:

- (1) A new transfusion technique has been evolved which almost entirely obviates chills.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LABORATORIES

- (2) A revision of bacteriological and chemical technique has been brought about with the result that diagnoses and prognoses can be made in cases where it has hitherto been impossible.
- (3) Changes in technique in the chemical department have reduced the time spent on examinations, have markedly improved the accuracy of reports, and have made possible determinations of small quantities previously impracticable to measure.
- (4) Accurate statistical data have been accumulated on the research work carried on in the laboratories and also on the status of the animal house and the animal operating room.
- (5) Autopsies on all animals dying in the animal house have been made obligatory, spontaneous outbreaks of epidemics thus being kept in check.
- (6) The examination of surgical pathological material is held in conference so that diagnoses are generally the result of the opinions of five men.
- (7) Material for a teaching museum, including microscope and lantern slides, has been collected and has been found to be of immense value in training the younger men.
- (8) Revision of the surgical pathological and morbid anatomical indices has been made.
- (9) A very successful journal club has been organized in which members of the laboratory staff discuss recent advances in science.
- (10) Signal improvement has been made in the clinical pathological conferences which are now conducted jointly by Drs. Baehr and Klemperer and which are illustrated by microscopic screen projection.

The following changes in methods and procedures have been made which are calculated to effect an economy in expenditures:

- (1) All supplies to the various adjunct laboratories in the Hospital come from the central laboratory.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LABORATORIES

- (2) All purchases are centralized and made on a large scale; in consequence a considerable reduction in the price of material has been obtained and the clerical work in the purchasing department of the Hospital has been cut down.
- (3) Alcohol and other important reagents are kept under lock and key.
- (4) Many discarded incubators have been reconstructed and put into use.
- (5) The buying, feeding, and handling of animals are more systematized; discarded animals are now used for serological purposes.
- (6) Considerable saving has been effected in the use of glassware.
- (7) Methods have been introduced which cut down on the use of absolute alcohol by raising 95 per cent alcohol to 98 per cent.

Other facts concerning the laboratory are: Technicians in the adjunct laboratories are now carried on the payroll of the central laboratory; the nurses receive instruction on pathological material in the autopsy room; many volunteers, voluntary assistants, and internes have been trained; and weekly clinical pathological demonstrations have been held which have attracted wide attention. There have been audiences of over 235 and many have had to be turned away for lack of standing room.

Six post-graduate courses have been given. Twenty-two lectures have been delivered at other institutions by members of the staff. Many well-known scientists have visited the Laboratory.

It is desirable to call attention to the fact that our men should be encouraged to visit and report on other laboratories, that additional Fellowships are needed in our laboratories, and that the Laboratory welcomes visits from the Trustees.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE B. BERNHEIM,

Chairman, Committee on Laboratories.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DIETETICS

The Hospital has always aimed at providing wholesome, well prepared, attractively served meals for patients and employees. To achieve this goal, the best obtainable raw food is not sufficient in itself; an ideal plan would also bring the chef and his range as close as possible to the groups to be served. Practical considerations, however, usually make compromise to actual working conditions necessary, resulting in the concentration of food preparation at one or more strategic points. Fortunately, no compromise is necessary in the new Nurses' Home, for this building has a completely equipped kitchen, independently staffed, and separated from the serving pantry and pupil nurses' dining room only by the thickness of a wall. In the past, the food for the nurses was prepared in the overcrowded kitchen of the main Hospital, which also supplied ward and semi-private patients, house staff, and employees. The prepared food was transferred on carts to the old Nurses' Home, where it was necessarily re-heated. In the new Nurses' Home, the proximity of the kitchen makes possible a service which compares favorably with that of the best restaurants.

The workers in the Nurses' Home kitchen now devote their entire time to this department, and are under the constant supervision of a dietitian. The results have been very satisfactory and gratifying. The meatless luncheons inaugurated the year before are now, with the aid of the new facilities, even more attractive. Perhaps the greatest improvements have been made in the dinners; hot foods are sent directly from the range to the steam-table and then to the plates of the waiting nurses, and the chilling of food is now eliminated. It is also possible to prepare attractive individual salads and to keep them in a crisp condition in the spacious refrigerators from which the iced bains-marie on the service counters can be rapidly replenished during the service of the meal. The proximity of a pastry oven makes possible the preparation and serving of "fresh from the oven" desserts.

With lessened pressure on the main Hospital kitchen following the opening of the new Nurses' Home kitchen, the dietitian in charge is now able to give closer supervision to the work and to obtain better results. The continuous critical study by the dietitians co-operating with the nursing staff, of the dietary service to patients, has resulted in an improvement in the method of serving the evening meals in the wards. These meals, though simpler than the full midday dinner, are now sent to the wards in the same insulated carts which are used for the noon meals, thus insuring the arrival of the food in hot and palatable condition.

By further application of the principle of bringing the cook as close as possible to the person served, the food service to the staff has been markedly bettered. The menus are more varied, and the final preparation of many dishes is carried out in a service pantry adjoining the dining room. Thus, steaks, chops, and other so-called "short orders" are prepared in the serving pantry and reach the table piping hot. Many desserts are completed in this room just before serving.

The special diet kitchen, which concerns itself principally with the preparation of calculated and weighed diets, has been functioning to capacity. To facilitate the calculations necessary in the preparation of these diets, a working list of basic menus has been developed and so arranged as to expedite the service and to make possible the inclusion of many attractive dishes, thus avoiding the former complaint of monotony in menus.

The Dietary Department's work is not limited solely to the Hospital kitchens and wards; it reaches out to the Out-Patient Department to assist the medical staff in dietetic therapy. The adult and children's clinics for diabetes are attended by an assistant dietitian who assists with the prescribed diets and gives instructions to patients in the preparation and weighing of calculated diets.

It was realized several years ago that a centralized control of all of the dietary services (except the Private Pavilion, which is distinct in character and independent of other services) was the ideal plan of organization. With this objective, a start was made two years ago by consolidating the administration of the main kitchen, special diet kitchen, children's kitchen, and nurses' kitchen under a supervising dietitian. A further step toward consolidation of functions was taken this year when the dietary department, assuming duties heretofore assigned to a steward, began to share responsibility for the purchase of food supplies. As before, the Board's Committee on Purchase, under the chairmanship of Mr. Charles Klingenstein, co-operates, and has been instrumental in making many buying agreements advantageous to the Hospital.

The changes in organization which have been described have necessitated an enlargement of the dietary staff, which now numbers twelve, consisting of a supervising dietitian, an administrative dietitian and two assistants, a metabolic dietitian and three assistants, an instructor in dietetics, and a Private Pavilion dietitian and two assistants.

Miss Katherine M. Hagerty, dietitian in the Private Pavilion for the past five years, resigned her position and was succeeded by Miss Rose de Barber.

To prepare and serve approximately five thousand meals a day is no mean task, and credit for this achievement in the main Hospital is shared by the supervising dietitian, Miss Adeline Wood, Miss Ruth Goodrum, Miss Crete E. Warnock, and their respective assistants, and in the Private Pavilion by Miss Rose de Barber and her assistants.

Respectfully submitted,

GLADYS GUGGENHEIM STRAUS,
Chairman, Committee on Dietetics.

REPORT OF MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL:
Gentlemen:

The past year, 1927, has been one of the most interesting and important years in the history of the school since its organization in 1881. We think of 1927 as our banner year because in September last the school moved into its beautiful new home, an event which had been looked forward to for so many years. The satisfaction of everyone connected with the school over so joyful an event can better be imagined than described. While the work of equipping and furnishing the school had taken the greater part of the Spring and Summer months, the actual shift from the old to the new building was effected in two days. This would not have been possible had it not been for well-organized advance work on the part of the Hospital and Training School officials and the active co-operation and help of the nurses themselves. On behalf of the school, I wish to thank everyone connected with the Hospital, for their splendid co-operation and hard work, during that trying period.

It has been truly said that no thought, effort or expense was spared to make our new school building a worthy tribute to the generations of nurses who have gone out from Mount Sinai, or to provide a foundation and incentive to even greater efficiency and happiness.

Our efficient dietary force, led by Miss Wood and Miss Goodrum, was called upon to assume the entire management of the dietary service in the new building. The first meal cooked and served under their auspices was the luncheon on September 6th, and the joy of opening the beautiful new dining rooms and cafeteria on that occasion will long be remembered by those who had the privilege of being present.

The formal opening of the school for public inspection was held on the afternoons and evenings of November 30th and December 1st, on which days nearly two thousand friends of the school were our guests. Practically everyone of that group and all others who have since inspected the new building have been enthusiastic about its beauty and completeness. We hope that our school will express its appreciation through better nursing service and greater helpfulness to mankind, so that the ultimate purpose of the School and Hospital may be fulfilled and those committed to our care as patients may indirectly reap the benefit as fully as do our student nurses.

The Class of 1928 is the last one to graduate from the school on the two years and eight months basis. Our regular three-year course of training was shortened in 1923 as an experimental measure. The shortened period proved unsatisfactory for many reasons, the most important being that 25 states have now made the three-year training a requirement for registration. In order to give every student who had taken the shorter training a chance to fill out a full three-year course, a post-graduate course of four months' supplementary work was started January 1st, 1927, since when 33 students have completed that course and have received an appropriate certificate.

In order to give the students returning to the original three-year period opportunity for as broad an educational and clinical experience as possible, certain affiliations have been established during the past year for restricted groups of students, with the Willard Parker Hospital for three months' service in contagion, with the Bloomingdale Hospital for three months' service in mental nursing and with the Henry Street Settlement for two months of District Nursing service. Our own Hospital has always offered exceptional opportunity for other than general nursing service and special elective courses are also being arranged in the Out-Patient Department, the Social Service Department, the Operating Room and in certain lines of executive work. In making selections for each of these special services, scholarship and good standing are considered. The students have shown a lively interest in these new opportunities.

Our school, at present, numbers 280 students. The general daily average maintained for the past year has been 270. We have also a graduate group of 56 and a post-graduate group of 10, a total of 346 nurses in all. In addition to this regular nursing group a daily average of nearly 200 graduate special nurses, most of whom are employed in the Private Pavilion, though "specials" are by no means rare in the public wards, is maintained throughout the year.

During the past year over 1,200 letters of inquiry and application were received and 138 applicants were selected for admission as student nurses. 100 of this number remain in the school today. It is always a source of regret among Schools of Nursing, that so large a proportion of students are lost during the first year of training, frequently before the end of the probationary term, and in spite of the most careful and judicious selection. A summary of the causes or reasons for the withdrawal of 38 of our own probationary group during the past year may be of interest:

Home-sickness	10
Distaste for nursing work.....	8
Physically unfitted for the work of nursing.....	7
Temperamentally not suited for nursing work.....	5
Unequal to educational program.....	4
Called home by some unexpected change of situation	2
Resigned to be married.....	2

A report recently submitted by Miss Crouch, Senior Instructor, states that during the past year the School of Nursing has totaled 3,600 hours of actual instruction, 64 per cent of which was given by the Instructors or Nursing Staff, 21 per cent by the Dietitians, 10 per cent by the Medical Staff and the remaining 5 per cent by the teacher of Massage. The direct cost of nursing instruction alone for the year, exclusive of any maintenance charge for instructors or students, was close to $11,000.

The health of the school for the past year has been excellent, averaging only $4\frac{1}{2}$ days' illness per student and showing a daily average of only 3 students off duty daily—a very low proportion among 270 students. There were 4 surgical operations during the year, all appendectomies, and 26 tonsillectomies. With two exceptions all medical cases, 175 in all, were illnesses of a minor character.

It is interesting to note that while the Hospital has cared for but 1,187 days of illness among the students, it has also given nursing care for 1,314 days to graduate nurses; nearly 1,200 days of hospital care were required by nurses not on the school payroll but who are engaged in special or private duty nursing. The illness of these graduates has generally been of a much more serious character than that of the students and included 34 major operations.

ENTRANCE TO STUDENT NURSES' DINING ROOM—SCHOOL OF NURSING

STUDY ROOM—SCHOOL OF NURSING

The report of the Nurses Registry for the past year shows a decided increase in the number of graduate nurses enrolled for private duty—a daily average of 329 as compared with 250 for several previous years. The number of calls for nursing service is approximately the same—nearly 7,000. With the exception of 734 cases for whom it was necessary to call outside nurses and 34 cases for whom it was not possible to secure nurses, these cases have all been cared for by the Mount Sinai graduates.

This year, the National Committee on the Grading of Schools of Nursing, which is making a study of the number of graduate nurses remaining in nursing after a given number of years, asked for our statistics. A twenty-five year survey of the graduates of this school, covering a period from 1902 to 1927, yielded the following interesting figures:

The total number graduated in 25 years was 1,094 nurses.

Of this number all but 60 or about 5 per cent of the total were accounted for, making our basic number for the count 1,034.

Of this number 410 or 43 per cent had married and only 5 per cent of the married group continued nursing.

341 or approximately 31 per cent are doing private duty nursing.

105 or $9\frac{1}{2}$ per cent are doing Public Health work.

81 or about $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent are doing Institutional work.

52 or less than 5 per cent have died.

Only 20 out of the entire 1,034 nurses have gone over to any other profession or line of work—less than 2 per cent.

Thus it appears that 46 per cent of all who originally graduated during the twenty-five year period have been lost to nursing. It would be interesting to know how these figures compare with those in other groups of women workers.

REPORT OF SCHOOL OF NURSING

Our school has found the time even during its past busy year for many interesting extra-curricular interests and social activities. On May 9th, a representation of the students attended the Fiftieth Anniversary celebration of the New York School of Nursing, which was held at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and on May 15th, another group represented the school at the Memorial Services held in memory of Florence Nightingale and all of the nurses who gave their lives during the late war.

The students have had the usual number of parties, dances, etc. Two excellent concerts were enjoyed during the year, one provided through the kindness of Dr. Albert A. Berg; the other by Mr. Albert Stern and Mr. Edgar Levintritt. A new interest recently established has been the organization of two glee and ukelele clubs with Mr. Dan Nolan as leader and instructor. The crowning touch of glory, however, was experienced when late in February the graduating class staged their class play and placed the Class of 1928 among "those who go down to the sea in ships."

It is always difficult to find any adequate way in which to thank all of the many friends and supporters of the School, especially that genuinely interested group, the Board and the Staff, who give so freely of their time, strength, service and funds for every possible need and on every possible occasion. To all members of our medical staff, who have given so much time and care to our sick nurses we are especially appreciative. To Dr. Goldwater we are as usual deeply indebted for his unfailing interest.

Once again, as we call the yearly roll of our group of nursing officials, we find that we are indeed fortunate in having had very few changes during the past year. Under the able administration of our Superintendent, Miss Elizabeth A. Greener, and her efficient and loyal faculty, the standards of the school and the heavy work of the past year have been splendidly arranged, managed and controlled. I wish to say to this group of loyal workers how thoroughly all of their efforts are appreciated by the Board of the School of Nursing.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF JACOB EMSHEIMER

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of The Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing, held November 30th, 1927, announcement having been made of the death of Mr. Jacob Emsheimer, in his 82nd year, a Director of the School, the members present decided to express their feelings in the following resolution:

"We have heard with the deepest sorrow of the death of our associate, Jacob Emsheimer, who served our School so faithfully for nineteen years as a Director.

"To him this service was an inspiration and despite his advanced years no call in the interest of the School, its staff or its pupils failed to meet with his immediate response.

"It was a labor of love which cheered him throughout his years of service, and we who knew him best have lost a dear friend."

It was also resolved that these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of the Society, that they be published and that an engrossed copy thereof be sent to the family of the deceased.

HUGO BLUMENTHAL,
President.

CHARLES A. WIMPFHEIMER,
Vice-President.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY SOCIETY

OFFICERS

MRS. EMIL FRENKEL.....	PRESIDENT
MRS. WILLIAM GOODMAN.....	VICE-PRESIDENT
MRS. OSCAR ROSE.....	TREASURER
MRS. J. A. ARNOLD.....	SECRETARY

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL:

Gentlemen:

At the close of the season 1927-1928 it is my duty as heretofore to render a report of our activities. Our bi-annual election was held at our first meeting; the officers and directresses were unanimously re-elected and we began our duties in the same spirit of cheerfulness and earnestness as in all the years past. The work has not changed very much during the past year and while it always increases in one way or another, the good friends who give their time and leisure and help us on our Monday afternoons, make it possible for us to fill a year's requisition in the short space of a few months. Rain or shine, our friends come and if by reason of sickness or otherwise there should be a vacancy, there is always a volunteer to take the place of the absentee.

With great sorrow I must report the death of one of our oldest directresses, Mrs. Louis B. Schram. Always conscientious and faithful, she was with us until a week before she was taken sick and we shall miss not only her fine work but her staunch and splendid advice.

We received a legacy of $1,000 under the will of Mrs. Mathilde Rothschild, our late directress, whose death was reported to you last year.

I take pleasure in submitting herewith an itemized account of the work done during the past winter; also a short financial report:

--	-------------------

Before closing I would like to voice my thanks to the ladies who helped us accomplish all our work; to our worthy Matron, Mrs. Ada Altman, who administered our store room so ably; to Mr. Charles Klingenstein, who as usual did the buying for us in his splendid manner and to Mr. George T. Cook, who helped us with our books.

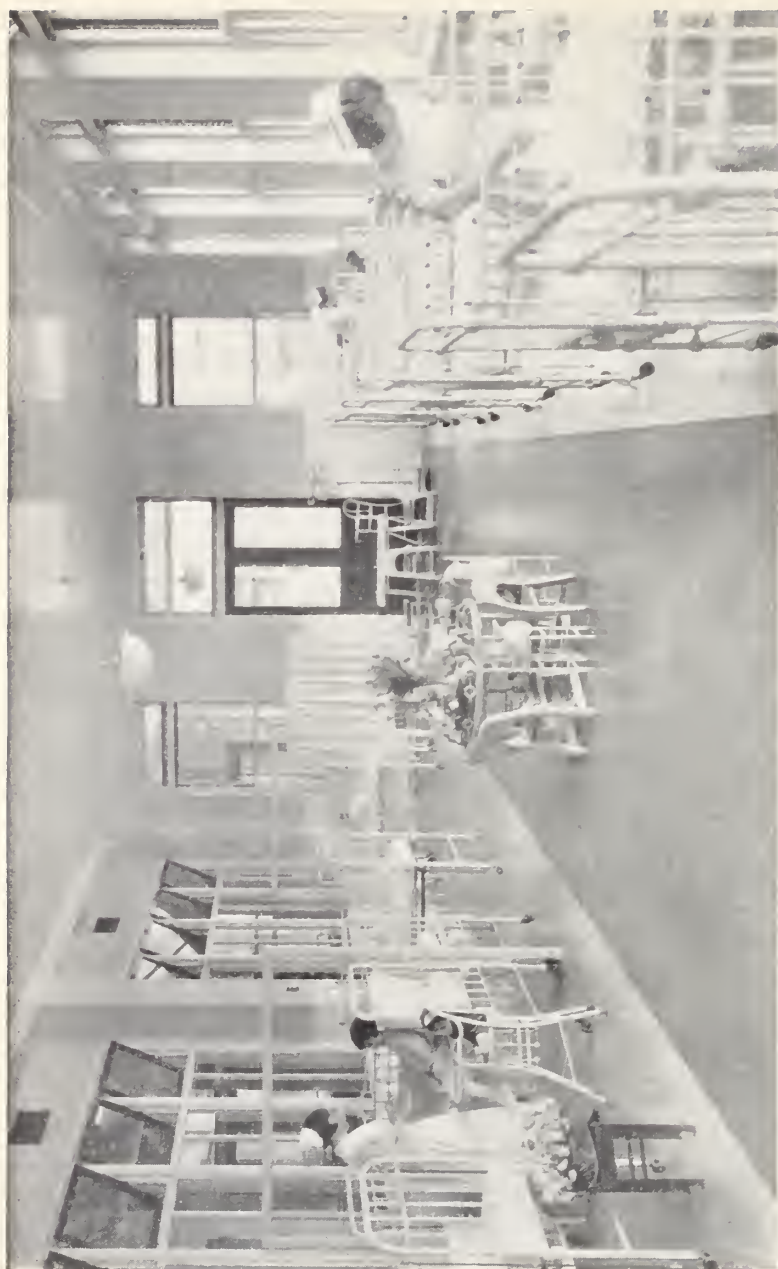

Let us hope that we will all meet in good health for another season of work and of helpfulness to those who cannot for the time being help themselves.

Respectfully submitted,

MALY R. FRENKEL,
President.

Extracts from the Constitution on Endowed Beds and Endowments

- A Contribution of $2,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Life Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge.
- A Contribution of $3,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Memorial Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the main Hospital, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by the said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal. In the event of such successor being appointed, the rights hereinbefore mentioned shall continue for a period of not over fifty years from the date of such contribution—such period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor.
- A Contribution of $5,000 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Perpetual Bed in the Children's Pavilion. Such contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the wards of the Children's Pavilion, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by said donor in his or her last will and testament or by any other instrument under seal.
- A Contribution of $7,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Perpetual Bed, but where, under the provision of any will executed prior to March 20, 1921, the sum of $5,000 or more is bequeathed to the Hospital in payment of any Perpetual Bed, the Board of Trustees may, at their option, accept such sum in payment of such Perpetual Bed. Such contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal.
- When a corporation is the donor, the privilege shall expire at the end of twenty-five years from the date of such contribution.
- Tablets to commemorate the endowment of Life and Memorial Beds shall be placed in the ward selected by the donor, subject to the rules of the Hospital. Tablets for Life Beds shall be maintained during the life of the donor, tablets for Memorial Beds for a period not beyond fifty years from the date of their endowment, such a period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor. The endowment of a Perpetual Bed shall entitle the donor, or his legal representative, to have a tablet placed in the ward selected by him, or by them, or to have the endowment recorded on a tablet provided for that purpose in the corridor of the Hospital; such tablets shall be maintained in perpetuity.
- A donor may change a Life Bed endowed by him or her to a Memorial Bed by making an additional contribution of $1,000, or to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $5,000, or may change a Memorial Bed to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $4,000.
- No patient shall occupy a Life, Memorial or Perpetual Bed unless he shall comply with the current rules of the Hospital and be a proper subject for treatment according to its regulations.
- An endowment for the establishing of any special fund may be accepted by a resolution of the Board of Trustees. Such fund may be created either for a special purpose, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to such purpose only, or under the name of one or more persons, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to the general purposes of the Hospital. Such endowment funds shall be kept by the Treasurer as special accounts. Contributions to existing funds may be made at any time, but no funds shall be created with an initial endowment of less than Ten Thousand Dollars.

HISTORICAL NOTE

The Mount Sinai Hospital was organized and incorporated in 1852 for "benevolent, charitable and scientific purposes." The work of the Hospital was begun in a small private dwelling on 28th Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, which accommodated 28 patients. The Hospital now has accommodations for 654 patients, not including 17 beds in the receiving ward.

In 1871 the Hospital completed and occupied, at Lexington Avenue, 66th and 67th Streets, a building having a capacity of 200 beds.

The Dispensary, now known as the Out-Patient Department, was inaugurated in 1872.

The clinical departments first organized were those of medicine and surgery; a gynecologist was appointed in 1877.

Mount Sinai created precedents among the hospitals of New York by setting up a distinct pediatric service in 1878 and an otologic service in 1879; the latter was at first combined with, but in 1910 was separated from, ophthalmology and laryngology.

The Mount Sinai Training School for Nurses, in affiliation with the Hospital, was incorporated in March, 1881; the name of the school was changed in 1923 to The Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing.

In 1885 a committee was formed to develop a Medical Library.

In 1886 a district medical service was inaugurated.

Provision for the care of private patients was first made in 1886; an intermediate or "semi-private" ward was opened in 1904.

In 1893 a Pathological Department was established, and consultants in dermatology and neurology were appointed.

The corner stone of the group of ten hospital buildings occupying the block bounded by Fifth and Madison Avenues, 100th and 101st Streets, was laid May 22nd, 1901; the buildings were completed and occupied March 15th, 1904, when 500 beds became available for the care of the sick.

A Department of Dietetics was established in 1905.

HISTORICAL NOTE

A Social Service Department was inaugurated in 1906.

A Tuberculosis Clinic was organized in 1908.

The first of a series of "Fellowship" funds, to assist investigators engaged in scientific medical work, was created in 1908.

The Hospital's first X-ray machine was installed in 1900. In 1910 a full-fledged Department of Radiology was formed, and in 1924 the department was subdivided into separate branches for (a) radiography and (b) X-ray and radium therapy.

In 1910 the three-story Out-Patient Building, which had been completed in 1904 was altered to a five-story building, and the Nurses' Home was enlarged from a six-story to an eight-story building. At the same time, new isolation wards were erected on the roof of the Medical Building.

A Dental Department was established for the benefit of in-patients in 1910; this work was extended to the Out-Patient Department in 1925.

An orthopedic surgeon and a physio-therapist were named in 1911.

Roof wards for outdoor treatment were erected on the Medical and Surgical Pavilions in 1912.

The Hospital in 1912 accepted a fund "for the advancement of preventive medicine." A "health class" for children was promptly established.

In 1913 the erection of seven additional buildings south of 100th Street was begun; four of these buildings were occupied in 1915, and three, namely, the Private Pavilion, the Children's Pavilion and the Auditorium, were completed in the spring of 1922. With these additions, the Hospital was able to care for 654 patients.

The first of a series of lectureship funds was established in 1913. These funds provide honoraria for distinguished visiting lecturers.

Electro-cardiography was instituted in 1915.

In 1917, Mount Sinai Hospital became a constituent member of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies, which was organized in that year.

HISTORICAL NOTE

Until 1917, tonsillectomies were performed in the Dispensary, often without anesthesia; in the year mentioned, a "tonsil and adenoid" ward, with a fully equipped operating room, was opened.

A Mount Sinai Hospital Unit, organized as a section of the Medical Department of the United States Army, was sent to France in 1918.

Post-Graduate medical instruction was formally organized in 1923, in affiliation with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University.

A permanent fund for the support of medical research was inaugurated in 1925, prior to which research was precariously supported by occasional donations.

The construction of a new school and residence building for the School of Nursing, fronting on 98th Street, between Fifth and Madison Avenues, was begun in 1925 and completed in 1927; the residence accommodates 490 nurses.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF
THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL OF THE CITY OF
NEW YORK

HELD MARCH 17th, 1929

The Acting President, Mr. Leo Arnstein, called the meeting to order.

On motion duly made, seconded and unanimously carried, the reading of the minutes of the Annual Meeting, held March 25th, 1928, and the reading of the Treasurer's Report were dispensed with.

The Acting President read his report.

Dr. Louis B. Wilson, Director of the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minnesota, addressed the meeting on the subject of "The Educational Responsibilities of the Hospital."

On motion duly made, seconded and unanimously carried, the meeting adjourned.

DEWITT MILLHAUSER,
Acting Secretary.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

If growth is the criterion of life, it can be fairly said that The Mount Sinai Hospital has shown signs of being alive during the year just ended. And by growth, I mean spiritual, scientific and physical. The Board of Trustees had taken inventory of its belongings, and finding that if it wished to continue in the place of proud preëminence which it had occupied for many years, some active steps needed to be taken, proceeded forthwith to act.

Our buildings and equipment which, when we moved into them twenty-five years ago, were the last word in hospital practice, had been slowly pushed back by the advances in construction and scientific apparatus, and by the hospitals which have been built in the interim, and we were beginning to feel that all was not well with us.

After carefully reviewing the situation, and under the guidance of Dr. Goldwater, a plan was developed which, by the expenditure of about two million dollars, would keep us in the forefront of modern hospital practice. The program contemplates the erection of a Semi-Private Pavilion, to be placed on the site of the present West Building, and to be constructed with the most up to date type of cubicle grouping. It is hardly necessary to dwell upon the need of accommodations for those of moderate means. This subject has been so fully discussed during the past few years that it is common knowledge that while the best of medical care has been available to those of considerable means and to the ward patient, the man or woman of moderate means has been overlooked. The approximately 120 beds, which will be provided in this new unit, will afford real relief to this situation. It will also contain an infirmary for nurses and a complete set of operating rooms. Our present operating rooms, ample and complete when measured by the requirements of twenty-five years ago, are now functioning under great pressure, both for space and proper facilities. The medical and surgical wards, which have stood the brunt of twenty-five years of continuous wear, are to be rehabilitated; the dispensary will be provided with the facilities for which ambitious and painstaking members of the staff have justifiably been clamoring for years; the laundry will be increased in capacity, or rebuilt, and, in short, the old buildings will be reconditioned to the point where they will satisfy the most exacting critics.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

These plans have been under contemplation for some time, but funds were lacking, and it needed the vision and initiative of our President, Mr. George Blumenthal, to bring them into being. Under the stimulus of his urging, the Board presented a plan to Federation, according to which the Trustees of the Hospital were to contribute not less than $700,000.00, and the community at large was to be approached for $950,000.00. Having obtained the approval of Federation for this approach to the community, the Trustees raised the amount of $1,066,500.00 from among their own members. Then turning to the community, they met with a most generous response, and within four weeks, the entire sum was completed. Rarely has so spontaneous and liberal a response been met, and we are deeply grateful to those who have made possible the fulfillment of these plans.

The measure of a hospital's work is two-fold; the quantity and quality of medical service to its patients and the scientific research which it carries on.

During the year 1928, The Mount Sinai Hospital cared for 12,065 bed patients, including 2,535 in the Guggenheim Private Pavilion, for a total of 195,426 hospital days, and in its Out-Patient Department gave 206,791 consultations. Both of these figures set new marks, and it has been our earnest effort to make the question of quantity of secondary importance and to strive for an ever higher grade of service.

This high standard of medical service is possible only because we have a professional staff of high attainments, which devotes itself most unselfishly, under the leadership of Dr. Isidore Friesner, President of the Medical Board, to the needs of our patients. No group of men could show greater zeal in furthering the interests of those entrusted to its care.

Our Laboratory, which, in addition to attending to the routine work, which becomes more onerous with every advance in therapeutic knowledge, is occupying itself, under the general direction of Dr. Louis Gross, with a number of most interesting research problems. Some of these investigations are full of promise and a more detailed statement of them will be contained in the report of the Laboratory as a part of the Annual Report.

Dr. Klemperer, in charge of the Department of Morbid Anatomy, Dr. Sobotka, who succeeded Dr. Heidelberg, in the

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Department of Chemistry, and Dr. Schwartzman, at the head of the Department of Bacteriology, are ably seconding Dr. Gross in his aim to make the Mount Sinai Laboratory an institution of true science. In addition to the many important researches which are at present being undertaken, there is an additional number that must be neglected because we lack room and funds with which to pursue them further. During the past year, we have received many generous gifts for the work of this department, among which were the following:

FUNDS WHOSE INCOME IS TO BE USED FOR RESEARCH

The Lorsch-Sachs Endowment Fund—For the promotion of Medical Research, in memory of Albert, Jenny and Sigmund Lorsch, founded by Josephine Lorsch, Nellie and Harry Sachs.....	$60,000.00
The Morris J. and Carrie Hirsch Fund—Founded by Walter A. and Steven J. Hirsch, in memory of their parents, for the Study of Cancer.....	10,000.00

FUNDS WHOSE PRINCIPAL IS TO BE USED FOR RESEARCH

Samuel Keller Jacobs Fund—Founded by Samuel Keller Jacobs, for Research Work in Thrombo-Angiitis, over a period of three years.....Per annum	5,000.00
Lucius N. Littauer Foundation, Inc.—For the Study of Inflammatory and Degenerative Diseases of the Heart and Blood Vessels, over a period of three years	Per annum 3,700.00
L. S. Frankenheimer Fellowship Fund in Pediatrics—By the Misses Ida and Rose Frankenheimer.....	600.00
Nathan Hofheimer Foundation, Inc., Fellowship Fund—For Research Work in Anaerobic Infections
	Per annum 4,000.00
Manhattan Research Foundation—For Bacteriological Research Work	2,400.00
For Experimental Gastro-enterology Research Work—
Dr. Albert A. Berg.....	1,000.00
Mr. Ludwig Vogelstein.....	1,000.00
Mr. Lucius N. Littauer.....	1,000.00
Mr. I. D. Levy.....	1,000.00
Anonymous—For Anaerobic Bacteriology Research Work	600.00

FOR GENERAL RESEARCH WORK:

Hon. William N. Cohen.....	$7,500.00
Mr. Barnett Robinson.....	500.00
Mrs. Leo Gutman, in memory of her husband, Leo B. Gutman.....	250.00
Mr. Henri J. Nothmann.....	100.00
Mr. M. H. Ullman.....	100.00

FOR PNEUMONIA RESEARCH WORK:

Mr. Duncan A. Holmes.....	5,000.00
Mr. Joseph G. Mayer.....	1,000.00
Mr. E. D. Levinson.....	500.00
Mrs. Milly Frank Mayer.....	250.00

FOR TYPHOID RESEARCH FUND:

Mr. George B. Bernheim.....	1,250.00
Mr. Waldemar Kops	1,250.00
Mr. Walter W. Naumburg.....	1,250.00
Mr. S. S. Prince.....	1,250.00

Eugene Littauer Fund for Research Work..... 25,000.00

Our greatest need at the moment is the gift of laboratory research funds not too closely restricted, both large and small, for the endowment of this scientific work.

Death has levied its toll both of our Trustees, of our Medical staff and of the Administrative group.

Mr. Isaac N. Heidelberg, a Director and Trustee of the Hospital for eighteen years up to 1914, and since that time Honorary Trustee, passed away on August 2nd, 1928. For many years he served the Hospital faithfully and well, and his colleagues mourn his loss.

On April 27th, 1928, Mrs. Arthur Lorsch died, after having served as a Trustee since 1926. This short term was by no means the measure of her service to the Hospital. For many years prior to her election as Trustee, she had labored unremittingly as an officer of the Social Service Auxiliary, and her impress on that organization was very deep, indeed. During the two years of her service on the Board of Trustees, she had entered upon her duties with great zeal and ability, and her absence is deeply felt. Resolutions which were adopted at the time of her death were printed in last year's Report.

Three separate funds were established in her memory, one by her last will and testament, and two others by her devoted friends and associates. These three funds have been consolidated into one, to be known as the Etta C. Lorsch Memorial Fund, income to be used for the work of the Social Service Auxiliary for special country care of children. The total of this fund amounts to $24,370.00.

Dr. Herbert L. Celler was one of the most devoted members of The Mount Sinai Hospital staff for a period of twenty-five years. His conscientious attention to duty, his clinical ability, and his true scientific spirit combined to make him a most valuable member. A few months after his resignation from the position of Associate Physician in January of last year, he fell ill and passed away, mourned by a host of friends. Some of these established the Herbert L. Celler Fellowship Fund, and one of the first awards of the Fellowship was appropriately for work in our Laboratory.

Dr. A. P. Zemansky, Jr., a graduate of Mount Sinai Hospital and at the time of his death an assistant in our Laboratory, was taken off at the very beginning of a promising career, and was deeply mourned by his many friends.

In our Administrative staff we were unfortunate in the severing of two associations of many years standing.

Robert Phillips, our Chief Engineer, died after serving this institution thirty-four years. He knew the physical plant of the Hospital as intimately as any medical man ever knew his anatomy, and he dedicated himself to his work with unlimited devotion. A loyal friend he was, and we shall miss him.

Mrs. Ada Altman, Matron of the Hospital for twenty-two years, passed away on February 1st, 1929. She, too, had the interests of the institution ever at heart, and her fine qualities endeared her to all who knew her.

Changes both in our Board of Trustees and in our medical staff must inevitably be encountered in so large an organization.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Mr. Maurice Frankfort, who joined our Board in 1916, and who served as Second Vice-President from 1921 to 1928, felt obliged to resign as Trustee in order to relieve the heavy pressure that was beginning to tell on his health. During his incumbency, the President has, in his Annual Report, repeatedly had occasion to comment upon the quality and quantity of Mr. Frankfort's work, even though it is against the usual custom to refer to the activities of active Trustees in such report. Mr. Frankfort, for a period of twelve years, devoted practically all of his waking hours to the Hospital. Even when he was away from the institution, his thoughts were here, and it was this very intensity of devotion that made it advisable for him to step out of the office of Trustee and accept the position of Honorary Trustee which was immediately tendered him. It is difficult to give adequate expression to the debt of gratitude to Mr. Frankfort under which the Hospital labors, for only those who were closely associated with him could appreciate the fine flower of his devotion and the unsparing sacrifice of his strength and health. His absence from the Hospital is a source of unceasing regret to all of his former colleagues.

Mr. Jack W. Schiffer, Trustee from 1920 to 1928, and Mr. Martin Beck, who served since 1922, found it necessary, on account of pressure of other duties, to resign from the Board. During their incumbency they served the Hospital well, and we hope to retain their interest and friendship.

To fill the vacancies for the term ending March, 1935 the Board of Trustees has elected the following:

Mr. Joseph F. Cullman	Mrs. Roger W. Straus
Mr. Myron S. Falk	Mr. Emanuel Van Raalte
Mr. Arthur Lorsch	Mr. Charles A. Wimpfheimer

We are happy to announce that we have secured as new Trustees:

Mr. Arthur Lorsch	Mr. David Sarnoff
Mr. Henry Morgenthau, Jr.	Mr. Eli Winkler

all of whom have entered upon their duties with enthusiasm.

Mr. Albert Forsch was elected Second Vice-President to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Frankfort's resignation, and Mr. DeWitt Millhauser was elected Third Vice-President to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Forsch's advancement. Mr. Arthur H. Harlow was elected Secretary, to fill the position previously occupied by Mr. Millhauser.

No member of our medical staff has served us more faithfully than has Dr. Hermann Goldenberg, who retired in January, 1929, and became Consultant Dermatologist. His deep and kindly interest in his patients, his honesty of intellect, and his fine qualities of heart and mind made him beloved by all with whom he came in contact. The Board of Trustees, on the occasion of his discontinuing active service, presented him with a gift bearing the following inscription:

"PRESENTED TO DR. HERMANN GOLDENBERG BY THE TRUSTEES OF THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL AS A TOKEN OF ESTEEM, AND IN RECOGNITION OF THE MANY YEARS OF DEVOTED SERVICE RENDERED TO THE HOSPITAL AND TO THE COMMUNITY. JANUARY, 1929."

Other resignations and appointments on the Medical staff were as follows:

Resignations:

Dr. Michael Heidelberger, as Chemist
Dr. Bernard S. Oppenheimer, as Cardiographer
Dr. Joseph B. Stenbuck, as Adjunct Surgeon
Dr. Maurice Lenz, as Associate Radiotherapist
Dr. William Snow, as full time Assistant Radiologist
Dr. Harry D. Pasachoff, as District Physician

New appointments:

Dr. Ernst P. Boas, as Associate Physician
Dr. Paul W. Aschner, as Associate Surgeon
Dr. Philip Finkle, as Adjunct Physician
Dr. Arthur M. Master, as Adjunct Physician
Dr. Herman Mond, as Adjunct Physician
Dr. Harry Weiss, as Adjunct Physician
Dr. Frederic D. Zeman, as Adjunct Physician
Dr. Joseph G. Druss, as Adjunct Otologist
Dr. Harry Sobotka, as Chemist
Dr. Emanuel W. Benjamin, as full time Assistant Radiologist
Dr. Gordon D. Oppenheimer, as Adjunct Surgeon

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

For those who have been in close touch with the operation of Mount Sinai Hospital for the past twenty-five years, it will be difficult to think of it without Dr. Goldwater as its active and administrative head, but such is now the case. Dr. Goldwater has, for several years past, felt the pressure of his outside consulting work to be so great that he repeatedly expressed the wish to resign his position as Director of the Hospital. Yielding to the persuasion of its officers, he consented to stay on for a while, but finally felt the time had come to make the decision. For a number of years, Dr. Goldwater had devoted only a part of his time to this Hospital work, and had acted as Consultant to hospitals all over the world. It is difficult to give adequate expression to our feeling about Dr. Goldwater. The fame of Mount Sinai and his own have been closely linked during the past twenty years. He assumed the administrative leadership of the Hospital when quite a young man, and within a few years he was recognized not only throughout this country, but in many foreign lands as the leading authority both on hospital construction and administration. There are literally hundreds of hospitals that bear the imprint of his genius, including all of our own recent buildings, and his advice is sought daily from both far and wide.

His early ambition to become Health Commissioner was realized under Mayor Mitchel and he set a standard of efficiency and constructive administration that will, I am afraid, not be equaled for a long time to come.

Upon his resignation, Dr. Goldwater was asked to join our Board of Trustees, but he felt that he could be of more effectual assistance in some other capacity, and he was accordingly appointed Consultant to the Hospital, in which relation we hope that we shall have the same cordial and close association as heretofore.

Dr. Joseph Turner, who had acted as Assistant Director from 1922 to 1928 and Associate Director since 1928, was appointed Director on February 1st, 1929.

The expenditure for current purposes of the Hospital, including the School of Nursing, Social Service Department and the Ladies' Auxiliary amounted in 1928 to.....	$1,727,501.44
Total receipts applicable to current expenditures.....	1,673,122.60

Leaving a deficit for 1928 of.....	$54,378.84

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Included in these receipts was the amount of $473,443.05 for the Mount Sinai Hospital Group, received from Federation. In acknowledging this generous support, I should like to point out that, in no previous year since its inception, has Federation's money-raising activities functioned as successfully as in 1928. Faced with a terrifying deficit at the commencement of the year, the Business Men's Council, through splendid organization and indefatigable efforts, raised the entire amount of this deficit, and greatly increased the annual pledges to Federation. Mr. Stroock, in his third year as President, continued to enjoy the gratitude of the community for his able handling of the situation. We tender to him our thanks for his sympathetic and understanding attitude toward the Hospital, and we, at the same time, extend our good wishes to his successor, Mr. Dudley Sicher.

We are also grateful to the United Hospital Fund for its contribution of $51,313.51, representing the largest amount given to any general hospital for acute diseases, and to The City of New York for the amount of $57,069.45, given through the Department of Public Welfare. We have received many courtesies at the hands of Mayor Walker, Comptroller Berry and the Board of Estimate, as well as from City Department Heads, for all of which we are duly grateful.

It makes us feel very humble to find how many good friends we have who, not content with standing by us during their lifetimes, perpetuate their interest by legacies and bequests. During the year 1928, and this year to date, we received the following gifts under this head:

LEGACIES AND BEQUESTS ($5,000.00 AND OVER)

From Estate of Al Hayman.....	$25,000.00
“ Estate of Alexander Herman (making total legacy of $100,000.00)	20,000.00
“ Estate of Aline Myers	15,027.87
“ Estate of Harmon W. Hendricks	10,000.00
“ Estate of Morris Rossin	10,000.00
“ Estate of Lottie E. Mayer (making total legacy of $33,461.87)	7,870.81
“ Estate of Isaac Bernheim	5,000.00
“ Estate of Marmaduke Richardson	5,000.00

PERPETUAL BEDS IN THE MAIN BUILDING

We have received the following endowments of beds:

In memory of Isaac Heidelberg—Dedicated by his daughters	$7,500.00
In memory of William Vogel—Dedicated by his sons, Harry Wm. and Bernard Wm. Vogel.....	7,500.00
In memory of Richard M. Homberg—Founded by provision in the will of his mother, Florence N. Homberger. (The bequest from the Estate of Florence N. Homberger amounted to $10,000.00, $7,500.00 of which was for a Perpetual Bed, the remaining $2,500.00 to be recorded as a legacy) ..	7,500.00
In memory of Samuel Bachrach and Babette Bachrach	2,500.00
In memory of Charles E. Schafer—Endowed by his wife. (Formerly a Life Bed).....	3,500.00
In memory of Al and Minnie Hayman—Two Perpetual Beds—Founded by provision in the will of Minnie Hayman	15,000.00

PERPETUAL BEDS IN CHILDREN'S PAVILION

In memory of Marcus Loew—Dedicated by Caroline Loew	5,000.00
In memory of Robert Reis—Dedicated by Sarah Reis. (Formerly a Memorial Bed)	1,500.00
In memory of Samuel and Hattie Binswanger, received from Max and Arthur Binswanger, to be added to the $2,500.00 bequeathed to the Hospital.....	2,500.00

DONATIONS FOR SPECIAL PURPOSES

Among other gifts that have been received are the following:

For the Edward Gamaliel Janeway Lecture Fund:
Mr. Moritz Rosenthal	$500.00
For the Edward Gamaliel Janeway Fund Income:
Anonymous	250.00
For Electro-Cardiograph Equipment Fund:
Mr. Lionel Sutro	600.00
Dr. H. G. Friedman	250.00

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

For Dr. Abraham Jacobi Library Fund Income:

Messrs. Nathan, Albert and Frank Sondheimer....	$300.00
Mr. Samuel Liebmann	200.00

From Estate of Dr. Henry Koplik, for Dr. Henry Koplik Fund:

Income to be dispensed by the Hospital's Social Service Department and to be devoted solely to the care of infants and children whose parents are unable to pay ward fees.....	10,000.00
Mr. David A. Schulte—On account of operating O. P. D. Dental Department	6,000.00
Mr. Samuel Sachs—For new equipment for the X-ray Department	4,387.46
Mr. Ernst Rosenfeld—For purchase of Zeiss Epidiascope	792.00
Mr. Philip J. Goodhart—For two oxygen tents.....	720.00
Mr. and Mrs. George Blumenthal—For the 1927 deficit	103,726.56

In addition to the above, the Hospital has received many other gifts, which enabled it to carry on its work more efficiently, and which are set forth in detail in the Report.

Medical instruction was assumed as one of the proper functions of the Hospital, and for a number of years we have, in affiliation with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University, been conducting Post-Graduate Courses. During the past year 38 courses were offered, and 19 actually given, to a total student body of 76 men.

At the Annual Meeting of March, 1926, I reported the commencement of a proceeding in the Supreme Court of New York to set aside the election of Trustees, held in accordance with an Act of the Legislature conferring upon the Board the power to elect successors to Trustees whose terms expire, upon the ground that this statute is unconstitutional. At the Annual Meeting of March 27th, 1927, I reported that on December 31st, 1926, Mr. Justice Aaron J. Levy had handed down his decision denying the application of the petitioners and holding the election of the Trustees to be valid, and that the petitioners had taken an appeal from this decision to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

On April 27th, 1928, the Appellate Division made its order unanimously affirming the order of Mr. Justice Levy, five Justices participating and concurring in the decision.

The petitioners thereupon appealed to the Court of Appeals of the State of New York, where the case was argued on November 27th, 1928, and on December 31st, 1928, the Court of Appeals handed down its decision again affirming the order appealed from and unanimously holding that the Act in question is constitutional. Five Judges of the Court of Appeals participated and concurred in this decision.

Judge Pound delivered a learned opinion in which he exhaustively examined each of the appellant's contentions and supported the Hospital's position upon every point. Among other things, he said:

"The change is not arbitrary or unreasonable" and again:

"The appellants' case has been presented to the Court from many different angles, none of which has been overlooked. The Court has carefully considered all their points. It has reached the conclusion that the right of a member of a charitable corporation to participate in the control of the corporation by voting for trustees, must, under the reserved power, yield to the greater right of the State and the corporation to provide for the more efficient administration of the affairs of the corporation, as their judgment dictates."

We are informed that this decision marks the end of this litigation, which has excited since its inception much public interest and comment. It is gratifying to report that six Justices of the Supreme Court and five Judges of the Court of Appeals, without dissent, have vindicated the action of the officers and trustees in proposing this legislation, deemed by them to be necessary for the proper administration of the affairs of the Hospital under the existing circumstances.

The Hospital is under great obligation to our colleague, Mr. Henry F. Wolff, who fought this case through three courts with great ability, and who gave unsparingly of his time and effort to bring the matter to a successful conclusion.

We wish once more to express our appreciation of the splendid assistance rendered by the Honorable Charles E. Hughes, of Counsel, who was most generous and helpful, and likewise to Mr. Garrard Glenn, and Mr. Benjamin Tuska.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The School of Nursing, of which Mr. Hugo Blumenthal is President, has, under the able leadership of Miss Greener, played its usual all important part in the essential work of the Hospital.

Mrs. Alfred A. Cook has, as before, headed the Social Service Department, which each year demonstrates more clearly that true hospital work cannot be confined within its four walls. The immediate direction of this Department has been ably handled by Miss Lissauer.

Each year we have occasion to be grateful to the Ladies' Auxiliary Society which, led by Mrs. E. Frenkel, supplies much of the linen required for the patients' care.

The list of those who, in the above mentioned Departments, are rendering effectual aid, is too long to mention individually, but their work is known and appreciated by those in charge.

Mr. Alfred Lowenthal has once more placed the Hospital in his debt by contributing his time and skill in the photographic department.

Whenever called upon, Mr. John D. Mason, of Hoadley, Lauterbach & Johnson, has generously come to the assistance of the Hospital, and we are duly grateful to him.

We are always glad to render testimony to the excellent services given by our Department Heads and those under them. It gives us pleasure to mention the good work of Mr. Miller, Jr., and Dr. Manheimer, Assistant Directors; Miss Erwin, Supervisor of the Private Pavilion; Miss Slator, Supervisor of the Out-Patient Department; Miss Wood, Supervising Dietitian; Miss De Barber, Dietitian in charge of Private Pavilion Kitchen; Mr. Cook, Chief Clerk and Auditor, and Mr. Rogin, Chief Pharmacist.

To you, our well wishers, supporters and friends, we submit this resumé of the Hospital's work during the past year, and hope that we may have earned your commendation of our efforts.

LEO ARNSTEIN,
Acting President.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF ISAAC N. HEIDELBERG

At a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Mount Sinai Hospital, held August 2nd, 1928, announcement having been made of the death of Isaac N. Heidelberg, an Honorary Trustee, the members present decided to record their sentiments in the following minute:

"We have just heard with a feeling of deep regret of the death of Isaac N. Heidelberg, an Honorary Trustee of the Hospital.

"During his twenty years of service as an active Trustee he showed the utmost devotion to the interests of the institution, and not only devoted a large part of his time to the details of its management, but was one of the leading figures in enrolling new friends among its membership.

"He was never deaf to any appeal on behalf of Mount Sinai; he was a liberal contributor whenever special needs arose, and constantly had in mind the improvement of its service, the welfare of the patients of the Hospital, and of their families.

"Those of us who were associated with him in our communal work had learned to appreciate his sterling qualities, his sound and calm judgment and his unfailing readiness to perform any work required of him in the interests of our institution.

"To his bereaved family we desire to express our sincere sympathy in the great loss which they have sustained."

It was also resolved that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased.

LEO ARNSTEIN,
Acting President.

DE WITT MILLHAUSER,
Secretary.

In Memoriam

ROBERT PHILLIPS

The Board of Trustees of the Mount Sinai Hospital announces with regret the passing away on December 14th, 1928, of Robert Phillips, who for the last thirty-two years was in the service of the Hospital.

His unswerving loyalty to the institution and his untiring application to his duties were of inestimable value.

To his family the Board of Trustees extends its heartfelt sympathy.

In Memoriam

ADA ALTMAN

The Board of Trustees of the Mount Sinai Hospital announces with regret the passing away on February 1st, 1929, of Ada Altman, who for twenty-two years served the Hospital loyally and untiringly.

Her application to her duties was such that she was of inestimable value to the Hospital.

To her family the Board of Trustees extends its heartfelt sympathy.

REPORT OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE MEDICAL STAFF FOR THE YEAR 1928

The President of the Medical Board again submits a report of the activities of the medical and surgical staff of our Hospital. These activities have the same broad range and give evidence of the same degree of intensive study that have similar publications in years past.

Lectures: During the year, the following lectures of general medical interest were delivered in the Blumenthal Auditorium:

Dr. William C. Von Glahn, Associate Professor of Pathology, Columbia University, delivered a lecture on "The Cardio-vascular Lesions of Rheumatic Fever."

Professor E. S. London, Director of the Department of General Pathology, Institute of Experimental Medicine, Leningrad, spoke on "Ferments, Hormones and Vitamines."

Professor Julius Bauer of Vienna gave a lecture on "Individual Constitution in Clinical Medicine."

The Laboratories: The work of the Laboratories of the Hospital is described in detail elsewhere in this report by the Chairman of the Committee on Laboratories. The titles of thirty-seven papers, based on work done wholly or partly in the Laboratories and referred to in that report, are as follows:

1. Behavior of the Substance Active in Pernicious Anemia on Dialysis of Liver Extracts.
2. Immunological Relationships of the Typhoid Bacillus.
3. Studies on Inhibition of Insulin Activity.
4. Clinical Data Obtained with the Female Sex Hormone Blood Test.
5. Endocrine Therapy.
6. The Female Sex Hormone. VIII. Simplification of Technic.
7. Significance of Female Sex Hormone Reaction in the Male Blood.
8. The Female Sex Hormone. IX. Possible Significance of the Rodent Vaginal Spread Reaction in the Male Blood.
9. Glia Response in Chronic Vascular Disease of the Brain.

10. Communicating Hydrocephalus. So-called Idiopathic Hydrocephalus.
11. Intracranial Tumors. Clinical and Anatomic Observations on a Group of 12 cases of Brain Neoplasm.
12. Progressive Degenerative Subcortical Encephalopathy (Schilder's Disease).
13. Healing Properties of the Capsule of Brain Abscess.
14. Studies on Streptococcus Bacteriophage. II. The Influence of Lytic Principles upon the Agglutination of Hemolytic Streptococci.
15. A New Phenomenon of Local Skin Reactivity to B. Typhosus Culture Filtrate.
16. Studies on B. Typhosus Toxic Substances. I. Phenomenon of Local Skin Reactivity to B. Typhosus Culture Filtrate.
17. Effect of Immune Sera upon the Phenomenon of Local Skin Reactivity to B. Typhosus Culture Filtrates.
18. Phenomenon of Local Skin Reactivity to Culture Filtrates of Various Microorganisms.
19. Immunologic Reactions in Tissue Cultures. I. The Effect of Tuberculin O. T. on Normal Leukocytes in Vitro.
20. Immunologic Reactions in Tissue Cultures. II. Analysis of the Effect of Tuberculin O. T. on the Morphology of Normal Leukocytes in Vitro.
21. Post-Mortem Bacteriology.
22. Secondary Rays from Lipiodol and Bismuth Subnitrate Paste on Staphylococcus Aureus and B. Coli Communis.
23. Blood Picture in Purpura.
24. Hydatid Mole and Chorioepithelioma.
25. The Pathology of Vesical Neoplasm. Its Evaluation in Diagnosis and Prognosis.
26. Intrabronchial Polypoid Adenoma.
27. Lesions in the Pulmonary Artery and Valve Associated with Rheumatic Fever Disease.
28. Fetal Peritonitis. Report of a Case Following Spontaneous Rupture of the Large Intestine.
29. Anatomical Studies on the Coronary Arteries and Their Branches. I. Arteria Anastomotica Auricularis Magna.

30. Cavernomatous Transformation of the Portal Vein. Its Relation to Banti's Disease.
31. Idiopathic Hypertrophy of the Heart.
32. Blood Vessels in the Valves of Normal Human Hearts. From a Study of 700 Human Hearts.
33. Examination of Fluids for Tumor Cells. An Analysis of 113 Cases Checked Against Subsequent Examination of Tissue.
34. Pathology and Pathogenesis of Legg-Calve-Perthes' (Osteochondritis Juvenilis Deformans Coxae).
35. Surgical Pathology of Goiter. A Comparison with the Clinical Phenomena, in 173 Cases.
36. Subacute Diffuse Ependymitis. Report of a Case Simulating Tumor of the Brain.
37. Studies on Muscle Atrophy.

Articles in the hands of publishers, but not published in 1928, are:

1. Morphology of Menstrual Blood.
2. Study on Thyroid Tumors.
3. Meconium Ileus.
4. Phaeochromocytoma of Adrenal.
5. Vascular Supply in Contracted Kidneys.
6. Preretinal Artery.
7. Labyrinthitis, Pathways of Infections.
8. Traumatic Perforation of Stomach.
9. Gaucher's Disease.
10. Sedimentation Time of the Blood in Jaundice.
11. Post Mortem Bacteriology; Complete Report.
12. Studies on B. Typhosus Toxic Substances. II. The Effect of Specific Sera Determining Local Skin Reactivity to Culture Filtrates of B. Typhosus.
13. Positive Blood Culture in Ulcerative Colitis.
14. Clinical Application of the Female Sex Hormone Test.
15. Endocrine Aspects of Gynecology.
16. Partial Gastrectomy and Right Vagus Section for Duodenal Ulcer with Hyperacidity.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

17. Venous Dilatations and Other Anomalies of Intraspinal Vessels with Symptoms and Signs of Spinal Cord Compression.
18. Acute Tumor of the Brain.
19. Relationship between Uterine Changes and Vaginal Bleeding in Ectopic Pregnancy.
20. Circulation in Round Ligament.
21. Pulmonary Suppuration.

Surgery: In accordance with the adopted policy of the Board of concentrating the treatment and study of special surgical conditions in the hands of designated surgical services, a new surgical group, comprising the diseases of the spleen, liver and bile-ducts was created and assigned to one of the surgical services. The possibility of reducing the risks of operative interference in jaundiced patients is now under investigation by members of this service.

To another surgical service goes the credit of preparation and reading of a paper before the American Surgical Association, reviewing the physiological, pathological and surgical indications in diseases of the spleen. Another contribution by this service, of value to clinicians and radiologists, deals with the X-ray signs in perinephric abscesses. Still another important paper from this service was a description of the method of treating kidney stones as practiced at Mount Sinai, which is considered by some, as an outstanding contribution to the surgical technic in the removal of renal stones.

Attention was also called by this service to an obscure and unrecognizable clinical entity following bladder operations, described as Periostitis of the Symphysis. The experiences of this service in the interpretation of renal functional tests were published as were also the following:

Pathology of Vesical Neoplasms; Its Evaluation in Diagnosis and Prognosis.

Muciparous Glands in the Mucosa of the Urinary Bladder.

Surgical Pathology of Goiter. A Comparison with Clinical Phenomena in 173 Cases.

Observations on a Series of 99 Renal Neoplasms.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

The neuro-surgical service is using the newer electro-cautery removal of brain tumors which permits of more efficient work in cases previously considered inoperable. Anaerobic infections and their relation to lung suppuration are also being studied.

Gynecology: The investigations on the blood obtained from the vagina during menstruation and in abnormal bleedings, the study of the female sex hormone, the work on the induction of abortion by means of X-ray in seriously ill patients were all continued. A number of papers were written and published on these topics. There has also been devised, by members of this staff, a new technic for plastic operation (formation of vagina by tube skin flaps), which has been used successfully during the past year.

The Gynecological Out-Patient Department has undergone radical changes. All routine morning clinics have been abolished and special clinics substituted. These clinics deal with menorrhagia, cystoscopy, endocrine diseases in the female, leucorrhea and gonorrhea, sterility and psychical conditions producing gynecological symptoms. Each of the clinics is in charge of one of the attending staff and has enabled us to give better care to the treatment of special diseases, and also to study obscure conditions. A kinographic insufflation apparatus has been installed and allows a much more detailed study of tubal permeability and tubal stenosis.

Medicine: The medical services have been interested in some new studies on the clinical and bacteriological phases of pneumonia. Investigations have also been conducted on (a) ulcerative colitis and the course in the life cycle of gastric and duodenal ulcers; (b) sensitiveness to pain as modifying the interpretation of abdominal symptoms; (c) bacteriemia and sinus thrombosis, bacterial endocarditis and certain other infections; (d) differential jugular blood cultures; (e) the bactericidal effects of a number of substances on streptococcus viridans when mixed with the human blood.

Further studies have been made on (a) subacute bacterial endocarditis with special references to temperature, chill and transfusion; (b) the effect of multiple intracutaneous injections of killed homologous streptococci on the course of subacute bacterial endocarditis; (c) the diagnostic value of the urine in typhoid fever; (d) the serum concentrate therapy in subacute bacterial endocarditis.

Pediatrics: There has been considerable activity on the pediatric service this past year. The clinic for diabetic children has continued to grow until it now comprises twenty-five cases, and was supplemented by a summer camp which proved very beneficial to the patients. A new class in the Out-Patient Department was started to take care of children suffering from eczema, where it is hoped that progress in the knowledge of this disease may be developed. From the asthma clinic numerous important contributions have appeared.

Metabolism in childhood continues to be a subject of study in the department, the relationship of thyroid medication to growth being under investigation at present. The value of irradiated ergosterol in rickets was studied. Laboratory studies on the action of insulin have been carried on and are about to be published. Particular stress is being placed on blood diseases in childhood and bone marrow studies are in progress.

During the past year many of the medical cases whose symptoms pointed to some mental difficulty were examined and studied by a psychologist with interesting results. A study of the physical and mental characteristics of Mongols, numerous clinical articles on post-tonsillectomy abscess of the lung, subacute bacterial endocarditis, pneumothorax, etc., have appeared in the literature during the past year.

Laryngology: During the past year the laryngological service has laid stress upon the importance of bronchoscopic examination in diseases of the chest. New methods for investigating the accessory sinuses have been devised and published. A study has been made of accessory sinus disease in children, and a method devised for the typing of pneumonia in children by means of direct laryngoscopy. A further study has been made of the intracranial complications of sphenoid sinus disease.

Ophthalmology: The appointment of a resident to the eye service continues to prove its value in the more efficient conduct of the Hospital service, the better co-ordination with the Out-Patient Department, and the development of competent young specialists. One of these residents read and published a paper on "Color Depigmentation on Generalized Vitiligo," and another paper on "The Effect of Hypertonic Solutions on the Ocular Tension, Normal and Abnormal."

A great deal of work has been done by the representatives of the eye service in the pathological laboratory and several rare eye conditions have been discovered, pathologically examined and described. Among these were cases of pre-retinal artery, periarteritis nodosa and tuberous sclerosis. A paper has also been read and published on "Eye Pathology in Kidney Diseases." Some experiments were conducted in an effort to explain the mechanism of exophthalmos. Several modifications of operative technique have been devised and employed. One member of this service has published a paper on studies in the relation between increased blood pressure and the pressure in the retinal arteries. New courses in post-graduate teaching have been inaugurated so that now the Department is prepared to offer a complete course in ophthalmic training. Recently the plan has been adopted to place the Associates and Adjuncts of the Hospital in charge of the afternoon classes in the Out-Patient Department; it is expected that this change will add to the interest and efficiency of this Department and effect a closer coördination with the Hospital.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

Otology: The staff has continued its studies on the calcium content of the purulent discharge from bone. Facilities have been obtained in the laboratory for the examination of pathological material from this service; the result has been the accumulation of many valuable histo-pathological specimens which are now being studied and prepared for publication.

Radiology: The steady increase in the number of patients referred to this department has been continued during 1928, when the total number was 12,985 as against 12,260 in 1927. This increase has affected greatly the examinations which were made in conjunction with the clinical services, such as ventriculography, encephalography, myelography, bronchography and the exploration of abdominal sinuses with the aid of opaque substances, especially lipiodol. From the experimental stage of the year before they have emerged into that of an established method of examination.

The number of gall bladder cases studied by the Graham method has been practically doubled, and the number of control examinations of the removal of calculi from kidneys in the operating room has also doubled.

Special studies have been made with regard to the bony changes in diseases of obscure origin, especially Gaucher's Disease. In conjunction with the Pediatric Department, the bony changes occurring in malnutrition and undergoing development, as well as the effect of this treatment of rickets by means of irradiated ergosterol, have been studied. An experimental investigation of the bronchial tree by means of injection of various opaque substances into pathological specimens with particular reference to lung abscesses has been started.

Newer methods have been tried out in the study of the nasal accessory sinuses, particularly the sphenoid, by means of lipiodol injections.

Thanks to the generosity of Mr. Samuel Sachs this department was able to acquire a combined horizontal fluoroscopic and radiographic table, with Bucky diaphragm, and another similarly combined table with the addition of a motor-driven tilting device which permits the table to be changed from the upright to the horizontal and even Trendelenberg position. This tilting device is of particular value in the case of stretcher patients who cannot stand up and in whom examinations in as nearly a vertical position as is possible is necessary. By placing the patient first in the horizontal position and then gradually bringing him into the desired nearly vertical position without any effort on the patient's part, many important examinations which would otherwise be impossible are now made with practically complete safety to the patient. The X-ray unit is of the oil-immersed type; that is, the X-ray tube and the generator are all enclosed in one box, so that no high tension wires are outside; this eliminates all danger to those who, in working around the table, must be as close to it as possible. This unit also permits the use of the inflammable anesthetics with entire safety.

Radiotherapy: While the total number of patients' visits has shown a slight increase (8,370 in 1928 as against 8,073 in 1927), the number of treatments has dropped to 4,339 as against 4,950 of the preceding year. This decrease is due in part to the larger doses of X-ray given at one sitting in some diseases and in part to the great increase in the amount of radium applications, one radium pack being equivalent to a series of X-ray treatments. A further reason for the decrease is the fact that many dermatological conditions such as psoriasis, lupus vulgaris, and lupus erythematosus are now being treated to a great extent by other means.

The clinical conditions treated were, with the foregoing exceptions, practically similar to those in previous years. The number of dermatological conditions was about one-third of the total, malignancies approximately 30 per cent, and the remainder a miscellaneous group including acute and chronic inflammatory conditions, chiefly of the skin, subcutaneous tissues, and nervous systems.

Our results in a series of therapeutic abortions induced by the Roentgen Ray have been very satisfactory, every case during the past two years being treated successfully. One paper on this study has been published this year; our series besides being the first treatments in America by this method is apparently the largest in the world.

With the coöperation of the clinical services, we are treating an increasing number of cases of hyperthyroidism. While the number of cases is as yet too small for definite conclusions, the results thus far have been satisfactory.

REPORT OF THE MEDICAL STAFF

Our facilities for the treatment of malignancies have been considerably improved by the addition of 150 milligrams of radium to our original supply of 110 milligrams. We have given 243,775 milligram hours of treatment in 1928, as compared to 126,085 in 1927.

The treatment of diseases of blood forming organs continues and the number of neurological cases and those of endocrine disturbances referred to us for treatment is increasing. The results, while chiefly palliative, have established radiotherapy as a recognized method of treating these cases.

Our follow-up clinic is functioning very satisfactorily. This clinic is of special importance in the gynecological and malignant cases. Every three months, members of the attending staff who originally referred the cases, see these patients together with the members of our department, and determine the status of the patient and the desirability for further treatment.

ISIDORE FRIESNER, M.D.

President of the Medical Board.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

The number of patients' visits to the Out-Patient Department reached a new high total in 1928. Although many of the clinics have been operating at capacity for a number of years, various refinements and adjustments in clinic routine, changes in location of equipment, and rearrangement of allotted space have made possible a three per cent increase in attendance over that of the previous year. The total patient attendance was 206,791, exclusive of 13,000 visits to the X-Ray Department, 7,100 visits to the Radio-Therapy Department, 1,977 visits to the Electro-Cardiograph Department and 1,010 visits to the Basal Metabolism Department; nor do these figures include 2,207 visits to the Children's Health Class which are reported by the Social Service Department. Of these visits, 42,298 were made by new patients applying for the first time for admission to a clinic. The greatest increases in attendance were noted in the physio-therapy, dermatology, neurology and mental hygiene clinics.

An increase in the total visits by patients is not in itself the best index of the quality of medical work being offered, although it is reasonable to assume that failure to render good medical service would result in a decrease rather than an increase in attendance. The average number of return visits for each patient during the past year was somewhat more than five. We should like to use some accurate method of evaluating the quality of our medical practice, but since we are dealing with imponderable factors against which no precise yardstick can be placed, we employ as one test the average number of return visits on the assumption that patients will return only if the service is adequate and helpful.

A summary of the number of total consultations in their relation to the number of new patients since 1918 is appended. This table shows the steady increase in the number of total consultations and decrease in percentage of new patients.

The clinic was open on 303 days, both mornings and afternoons. The daily average was 682, a new high mark; 936 patients were seen on one day. These patients were attended by a daily average of 99 doctors, 16 nurses, 12 voluntary aids, in addition to the regular staff of clerks, orderlies and other paid workers.

The total number of prescriptions filled was 91,511, the daily average being 302. The modern tendencies to rely less and less on drug therapy is indicated by the subjoined table, showing the decrease in the average number of prescriptions in relation to the total number of consultations shown in Table I.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

While no new clinics were established in 1928, the Out-Patient Department was somewhat more departmentalized by a division of types of cases within established clinics. Thus, the name of the Children's Asthma Clinic was changed to the Children's Allergy Clinic in accordance with the nomenclature suggested by the Associated Out-Patient Clinics, and was divided for purposes of study and treatment into two divisions, one for asthma cases and the other for eczema patients, both divisions being staffed by the same physicians. The assignment of eczema cases in children to this clinic was arranged with the coöperation of the dermatological clinic because eczema, like asthma, is now commonly considered to be an allergic phenomenon.

The establishment of a division of the cardiac clinic for patients between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one years was also authorized. To this division were admitted adolescents who graduated from the children's cardiac clinic, who were too young for registration in the adult cardiac clinic and considered themselves too old to associate with the much younger children registered in the children's cardiac clinic. The adolescent cardiac division was attached to the adult cardiac clinic, as a subdivision under the direction of the physicians to the Hospital but attended by the same physicians who had seen the children in previous years when they were registered as members of the children's cardiac clinic.

It was possible for the first time to accomplish the long-desired consolidation of a major Hospital service with its related Out-Patient clinic when the medical clinics were placed under the personal direction of one of the Attending Physicians to the Hospital. The present plan of service for Attending Physicians on the medical services calls for two years' service in the Hospital wards and one year's service in the Out-Patient Department. This scheme brings to the medical clinics the supervisory and consultation services of a complete Hospital staff and makes possible a quality of medical work in the Out-Patient Department which has heretofore been unknown. Furthermore, it improves the liaison between the clinic and the Hospital ward, making the medical clinic, in fact, an integral part of the medical service and facilitating the transfer of patients back and forth between them. The plan is now in process of organization and will be reported on more fully next year.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

The gastro-intestinal clinic, in addition to the usual routine diagnostic and therapeutic service, utilized its unique resources to a large degree in teaching and research. The staff has been engaged with the following problems:

1. A follow-up study of peptic ulcer patients who have been treated on the wards with the Sippy diet.
2. A follow-up and therapeutic study of cases of ulcerative colitis.
3. A study of cases of achylia gastrica using neutral red and histamine.
4. A comparison of the value of clinical findings, biliary drainage and cholecystography in the diagnosis of gall bladder disease.
5. A study of the changes and mechanisms involved in gastric secretion after partial gastrectomy for ulcer.
6. O study of the mechanism of gastric pain in ulcer.

The latter two studies have been accepted for publication.

In spite of statistical reports of a general decrease in the number of reported cases of tuberculosis, our tuberculosis clinic experienced a measurable increase in the number of new patients. This is accounted for by the large influx into the neighborhood of Porto Ricans who have been steadily displacing the white population. Because of their low economic level, the marked overcrowding in their homes, the difficulty of educating them in elementary hygiene due to language difficulties and low level of intelligence, a large amount of tuberculosis was noticeable especially among the children contacts. Of the new patients registered in the clinics about one-half were Porto Ricans.

A better clinical selection in the type of patient referred to the orthopedic clinic was noticeable and for an increasing proportion of them orthopedic measures either operative or non-operative were indicated and carried out. It was necessary to limit the number of admissions to the capacity of the clinic staff to receive and handle them properly. No relief can be looked for in this direction until additional space is available. The clinic undertook the injection treatment of varicose veins with good results. The Porto Rican element of the neighborhood was responsible for an increase in the number of bone tuberculosis cases and of untreated, extreme cases of club foot, hip and spine deformities. A number of papers were published by members of the orthopedic clinic staff of cases seen in the clinic and studies conducted therein.

The special morning clinics in gynecology have justified the expectation of the staff. These clinics have afforded them an opportunity to carry out new and detailed treatments of special groups of patients transferred from the general afternoon clinics. It has also given an opportunity to members of the staff to investigate some of the obscure conditions associated with abnormal bleeding, endocrinology, leukorrhea and sterility. One of the sessions was taken up with special cystoscopic cases and another with borderline cases requiring intensive study.

The thrombo-angiitis clinic gave further demonstration of the value of an Out-Patient clinic in conducting research. Supported by special funds contributed by Mr. Samuel Keller Jacobs, a part-time research assistant and a full-time technician were engaged to investigate some fundamental problems related to the disease and its treatment.

In previous reports, mention has been made of the crowded condition of the Out-Patient Department, the necessity for finding additional space in order to provide new departments, expand existing clinics and install a central record room. That these needs will soon be met is evidenced by the action of the Board of Trustees in embarking on a program of general Hospital expansion, in which is included the adaptation for Out-Patient Department purposes of a major part of the former Nurses' Home.

During the year, seven Post-Graduate courses as part of the Hospital Medical Instruction program in conjunction with Columbia University, were conducted in the Out-Patient Department. These included courses in diseases of the circulatory system, diseases of gastro-intestinal system, allergic diseases, gynecology, physio-therapy, and two in pediatrics dealing with cardiac defects and conduct disorders. In addition, two extra curricular courses in physio-therapy and in intelligence testing in children were added at the request of the student body.

The Out-Patient Department coöperated willingly and freely with public and private agencies in efforts to promote the general health of the community, particularly in the work on cancer control and in the campaign for diphtheria prevention.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

Follow-up service has entrenched itself solidly in the Out-Patient Department, using, so far as it can, the Out-Patient Department equipment and space after regular clinic hours. This is the second year of the Follow-Up Department under official Hospital auspices. It is making possible the rendering of a more complete service to the patient by following his progress in treatment through to a conclusion. It also affords an opportunity for the staff to complete research and special studies in connection with large groups of cases.

The number of physicians attached to the staffs of the various clinics has increased. The Committee has been able to give appointments to most of the new physicians making application during the year in the belief that the Out-Patient Department has a duty not only to provide proper medical service to the sick poor, but also to make possible an improved quality of general medical practice outside of the Hospital by affording Hospital affiliations with its educational value to as many reputable physicians as can be accommodated.

To the entire medical staff for their valuable work, the Committee wishes to express its sincere thanks; without their faithful attendance and devoted service the Out-Patient Department could not be conducted at its present high level. The Committee values greatly the unselfish services which have been rendered by the many volunteers and expresses its gratitude to them and to the nurses and other members of the Out-Patient Department staff for their assistance in conducting the department for the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

ERNST ROSENFELD,

Chairman, Committee on Out-Patient Department.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LABORATORIES

The number of examinations performed in the various laboratory divisions follows:

	1928	1927
Bacteriology	16,465	16,287
Surgical Pathology	2,750	2,641
Morbid Anatomy (Autopsies).....	462	425
Chemistry	15,051	15,189
Out-Patient Department	5,401	5,206
Private Pavilion	11,570	10,810
Hematology	5,783	3,577

Apart from the full-time heads, their paid assistants and technicians, the Laboratories have, during the year 1928, extended their privileges to 69 physicians. Of these, 46 were attached to Mount Sinai Hospital, 15 were volunteers or voluntary assistants not attached to Mount Sinai Hospital and 8 were Fellows. Of this entire group 30 assisted in the routine work and the remainder were attached exclusively to carry on studies or research work.

Thirty-seven articles were published. These include papers dealing with:

1. A classification of bladder tumors which should be extremely helpful to the clinician.
2. A number of studies in surgical pathology and morbid anatomy.
3. Anatomical and histological studies on diseases of the heart with particular reference to valve structure.
4. Important advances in the pathology of diseases of the central nervous system with their clinical correlations.
5. Blood diseases.
6. The female sex hormone and its clinical significance.
7. Immunological reactions in tissue cultures.
8. A newly discovered immunological phenomenon which will probably prove of great interest and value.

Apart from the above, 21 papers are at present in the hands of publishers and will appear in the year 1929. These papers deal with investigations on diseases of the blood, vascular anomalies of the spinal cord, the Schwartzman phenomenon, a number of interesting studies on the surgical pathology of thyroid tumors, diseases of the eye, diseases of the kidney, the female sex hormone, postmortem bacteriology, and physiological studies on the gastro-intestinal tract.

Forty-three problems are under investigation at the present time. The most important deal with:

1. Attempts to determine the cause of certain obscure diseases and to produce therapeutic sera for them.
2. Investigations on the physiology and pathology of the gastro-intestinal tract.
3. Investigations on the life history of various forms of myocardial and endocardial disease, particularly of rheumatism.
4. Attempts to transmit rheumatism to animals.
5. Diseases of the eye.
6. Microchemical determinations on small quantities of physiological fluids.
7. The nature of thrombo-angiitis obliterans.
8. The female sex hormone.
9. The classification of anaerobic bacteria and their clinical significance.

The following procedures instituted in 1928 represent improvements in methods over the practice of previous years:

1. The introduction of a department of anaerobic bacteriology.
2. Simplifications of chemical methods allowing us to reduce the fees for several items in the Private and Semi-Private fee schedules.
3. Transference of the clinical pathological conferences to the Blumenthal Auditorium.
4. The recording of the proceedings of the clinical pathological conferences for the purposes of publication.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LABORATORIES

5. The introduction of the rotary microtome in morbid anatomy which speeds up the work.
6. The installation of photographic apparatus permitting the illustration of current autopsies at the clinical pathological conferences.

The following procedures were introduced in order to effect an economy in expenditures:

1. The massing of purchases for supplies.
2. The continuance of the supply material to the Clinical Laboratories from the Central Laboratory.
3. The simplification of chemical methods so that they can be done at lower cost.
4. The introduction of the Pregl-micro-analysis method so that these analyses can be done on very minute amounts of material with a saving on reagents.
5. The introduction of a simplified and considerably cheaper system of filing microscopical slides.
6. The illustration of many publications by our own staff by means of the photographic apparatus.

The Laboratory has contributed to the Hospital's educational program as follows:

1. A number of Post-Graduate courses have been given under the auspices of Columbia University.
2. A number of men have been instructed in the technique developed by Dr. Frank for the determination of the female sex hormone. This is of considerable clinical importance.
3. Interns, Volunteers and Fellows continue to receive training at the hands of the department heads.
4. The clinical pathological conferences have served more than before as a training ground for many outside physicians who attend these conferences regularly and also for members of our Attending and Intern staff.
5. Thirty-four lectures were given by members of the Laboratory staff during the year.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LABORATORIES

The Hospital offers an unsurpassed field for fruitful medical research and its regular income from its meagre research fund does not suffice for this purpose. More funds are needed for the payment of salaries of research workers and of their technical assistants and for the purchase of special research apparatus and supplies. The receipt of a few special outside grants has enabled the Laboratory to conduct or assist in the pursuit of special research in thrombo-angiitis, typhoid fever, pneumonia, anaerobic bacteriology and tissue culture. While this places an additional burden on the Laboratory staff it has thus far been able to be of greater use to the clinical services and to extend its research work to greater and perhaps more productive fields.

The Laboratories are now being used at full capacity, every available nook and corner being occupied with work on some problem. Additional space, which can only be obtained through new construction or by the use of space in other parts of the Hospital, is needed not only for routine laboratory purposes but also to house the valuable research work which is now limited in its scope and extent because of lack of room.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE B. BERNHEIM,
Chairman of Committee on Laboratories.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DIETETICS

The past year has witnessed further refinements in the coördination of the work of the several units making up the Dietary Department. The purchase of foodstuffs was carried out in accordance with the plan adopted during the previous year which gave to the Supervising Dietitian an appropriate share in this responsibility. The Board's Committee on Purchases, headed by Mr. Klingenstein, lent its usual interest and active coöperation in overseeing these purchases. To permit the Supervising Dietitian to devote sufficient time to purchasing, it was necessary to provide an assistant in order to look after much of the routine work in connection with the administrative and metabolic duties of the Dietary Department. For this purpose, an appointment was made of a Senior Assistant Dietitian, who is in direct contact with all of the administrative problems including the planning, preparation and serving of all food in the Nurses' Home and Main Kitchen. Each of these subdivisions is in charge of an Assistant Dietitian.

The kitchen in the Nurses' Home serves the entire personnel housed therein. These include the executives and faculty of the school, graduate and charge nurses, pupil nurses and others. The service is concentrated on a diet that appeals to women and every endeavor is being made to give them the food that they enjoy.

The solution of the problems in the Main Kitchen is not quite so simple. Here food is prepared for ward patients, for executive, medical and house staffs, for social workers, for clerks and for domestic employees. These groups cannot be classified into food for men and food for women, nor are the facilities in the older building arranged quite so ideally for service as in the newer Nurses' Home kitchen; nevertheless, it has been possible to render good dietary service.

By equipping the staff dining room with a toaster and gas plate, more attractive evening meals have been made possible. Ward menus, as well as those of the employees', have been made better by providing fresh vegetables and fresh fruits more frequently, and the evening ward meal in particular has been considerably improved and varied. This better service has been achieved at no increase in cost, and no small part of the credit is due to the splendid coöperation given to the Dietary Department by the nurses on the wards.

The so-called metabolism section, which includes the special Diet Kitchen and the Children's Service Kitchen, also provides instruction to out-patients, and dietetic instruction to nurses. This section is under the supervision of the Metabolism Dietitian with Assistant Dietitians in charge of the smaller units. For the past three years these dietitians have been working on the preparation of a series of basic diets which are now complete. It involved the preparation of many recipes the values of which have been accurately calculated. The purpose of these basic diets is to make possible an attractive and frequently changed special diet. Various fruits and vegetables in season can be easily substituted and used interchangeably. Thus, for example, it was possible to plan a menu for Thanksgiving which included turkey, cranberry sauce, fresh vegetables, salad, ice cream, and made the diabetic tray appear not unlike the average Thanksgiving dinner. A distinct advantage of these basic diets is their flexibility, making it possible to vary prescriptions for individual patients through the control of the carbohydrate intake by means of bread in various amounts, of the protein intake through meat and eggs, and of fat intake through cream and butter. This permits rapid and accurate calculation and trays can be planned and arranged on short notice. The diets for children with diabetes are planned in a somewhat different manner from those for adults. With children, milk is used as a base and every effort is made to instil into their minds a realization of the importance of the diet. Instruction to the diabetic children is not considered complete unless their parents are also educated.

The increased size of the new classes of student nurses in the School of Nursing has taxed the teaching facilities of the Dietetic Laboratory and class room. By rearranging the students' instruction tables in the dietetic laboratory, it will be possible without crowding the class room to provide space for thirty per cent more students at one time and permit a less hurried and more complete instruction. Expansion of the content of dietetic instruction, particularly with regard to the calculation of food values and special diets for certain diseases, is being planned for the student nurses.

Conscientious attempts are being made continually to raise the dietary standards. Each problem is approached with an open mind. Numerous experiments aimed at better service have been carried out in the kitchens. The more costly cuts of meats and types of food have been tried in an effort to determine whether or not some of them in the long run may not prove more economical.

The Committee is duly appreciative of the excellent work done by the dietary staff. It wishes to record its thanks to Miss Adeline Wood and her assistants in the main Dietary Department, and to Miss Rose DeBarber and her staff in the Private Pavilion kitchen.

Respectfully submitted,

GLADYS GUGGENHEIM STRAUS,

Chairman Committee on Dietetics.

REPORT OF MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL:
Gentlemen:

The report of the School of Nursing for the past year is one, as a whole, of steady growth and progress which has been brought about through the greatly improved conditions for successful work in our splendid new school building and Nurses' Home. We are reaping a gratifying harvest of benefits as a result of the opportunity afforded for examination and development.

First, through the extension of our housing accommodations we are now able to confine our admissions to two large groups of students during the year, one in February and the other in September, instead of being obliged as in former years to enrol three smaller groups. We can now also comfortably house all students even at times when new groups are admitted and our peak load is being carried.

Secondly, we have been enabled to increase the size of the school to such an extent that we no longer find it possible to use students from other schools for affiliation in certain services. Between thirty and forty students from six schools were formerly enrolled with us, but after June 30th, 1929, the last of these affiliations with the Mount Vernon School will be closed and affiliations will have become a thing of the past. It is to be regretted that this group of schools needing assistance in rounding out their medical and children's services cannot still be retained. Our association with them has been profitable and satisfactory on both sides and should affiliations ever again become desirable or necessary, we would be most happy to renew them with the same schools.

Thirdly, we are at last in a position to give our ward patients much better nursing service and our staff great relief since under the present conditions an improved arrangement of our class schedule is possible. A large proportion of the students is now having unbroken hours of duty, therefore they are not taken off the wards so frequently for class work. These changes are a great help not only to the staff and patients but also to the instructors as only two instead of three repetitions of the preparatory course are now necessary each year and much of the class work given can be arranged for entire groups in their regular off duty hours.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

A CLASS OF PROBATIONERS

Fourthly, the School of Nursing as a whole is benefited and strengthened by the opportunity to weed out generously or eliminate students who do not measure up to the required standard of mental and physical ability to insure success in the highly specialized work of nursing.

At no time in the history of the school have we ever received so large a number of letters of inquiry and application as during the past year, the number having nearly doubled itself with 2,200 requests for information and application papers.

From this large number, 146 students were selected for admission. 105 of these students remain in the school today, which fact surely bears out our claim to careful discrimination in selecting and retaining only those especially qualified. The work of nursing is vastly different in character and scope from any other kind of work for women and makes so many unique demands on the individual that each year we realize more and more the need of high standards and wise restrictions.

The daily average of the School for the past year was as follows:

Students	250
Probationers	30
Post-Graduates	10
	<hr/>
	290
Graduates	60
Nurses' Aids	13
Total.....	363

Our total nursing group, therefore, averaged throughout the year, numbers 363 exclusive of a daily average of 190 special nurses caring largely for patients in the Private Pavilion. Beyond question, in this Hospital we have as large a proportion of nurses to patients as that which can be found in any general hospital in the country, a fact which does much to enable the nursing work of the Hospital to keep pace with the advancement and requirements of its medical progress.

REPORT OF SCHOOL OF NURSING

The health of the students as a whole during the past year has been excellent although we have had two heavy periods of illness of about two months each; the first in the early Spring and the second dating from about the first of December when we were heavily hit again by the "flu." Fortunately, while a certain proportion of students was seriously enough ill to keep us most anxious for a time, there were no casualties. We are hoping to establish a better record for the coming year as we are stressing and devoting much time and thought to the maintenance of a health program and health standards among our students.

Our new Gymnasium was formally opened last Spring when Miss Marion Crozier, who holds a master's degree from Columbia University in Physical Education and who has successfully conducted much work along this line, was engaged to organize this department. Miss Crozier has already demonstrated the value of physical work among our nurses and is attempting to base such work on an intelligent understanding of the needs and interests of each individual student. Her program, a broad one, has for its aims the promotion of health and happiness, of opportunity for acquiring skills which teach the worthy use of leisure time, and, through the proper understanding and use of physical education, to promote character development.

There have been a number of changes in the personnel of the faculty and head nurse groups during the past year. Miss Margaret Lundy, our valued Operating Room Supervisor, was obliged to resign her position on account of ill health. We consider ourselves fortunate in securing Miss Nell Porter, an experienced graduate of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital to replace her.

Miss Myrtle Cameron, our Medical Supervisor, resigned during the year to be married. Fortunately Miss Florence Stapleton, already holding one of our head nurse night duty positions, was available and, we felt, well qualified to fill the vacancy thus created.

Other important changes were: In the Infirmary, Miss Anne Irons appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Marjorie Nichols; Miss Marie Dowler to replace Miss Gertrude Copeland in the Private Pavilion Operating Room and Miss Augusta Pfrommer, as assistant Practical Instructor, to replace Miss Clare Casey.

REPORT OF SCHOOL OF NURSING

The summary and report of ten years' use of an important school fund has recently been made—that of the Jacques D. Wimpfheimer Loan Fund for Student Nurses. This Fund of $10,000, established by our Vice-President, Mr. Charles A. Wimpfheimer, as a memorial to a son who died in service during the World War, has just rounded out its tenth year. During this time $7,888 have been loaned to students needing certain financial assistance. Of that amount, $3,964, a little more than 50 per cent, has already been voluntarily returned by nurses who have benefited. About 20 per cent of the amount loaned was given for special purposes with the understanding that it would not be returned. These facts speak for the value of the fund and we hope the result will prove gratifying to our generous benefactor.

Other funds giving wonderful assistance in the work of the school are the Albert W. Scholle Fund which finances the Gymnasium, sport and recreational activities of the school; the Emil Berolzheimer Fund for Higher Education, used to assist graduates of the school who wish to advance themselves by a part-time college program while holding graduate nurse positions in the Hospital and for other special educational work; and the Estelle and Hugo Blumenthal Graduation Fund which furnishes the annual award for sending one student selected from the graduating class to Teachers' College. This fund also provides a special gift of $25.00 to each student on the day on which she actually completes her training.

The school has a large number of other special funds. Each of these means much in the success, happiness and welfare of the students and the school authorities and the students are keenly appreciative of these many evidences of good will and interest on the part of the Board members and their many other friends. It is encouraging to note that gifts to schools of nursing are becoming much more common. For many years such schools have been quite overshadowed by the needs of the Hospital with its other important activities, but the last year has seen two great endowments, each of one million dollars, given to Schools of Nursing: One presented to Yale University by the Rockefeller Foundation and one to the Western Reserve University School of Nursing, Cleveland, Ohio, the gift of Mrs. Chester Bolton who for the past few years has taken a most active and helpful part in the development and progress of nursing education. With gifts such as these, all things seem possible to those of us who know the hard up-hill road that schools of nursing and the hospitals laboriously supporting them have had to tread for many years.

It is with sincere regret that we report the resignation of our highly esteemed Director of The Mount Siani Hospital, Dr. S. S. Goldwater. For nearly twenty-five years Dr. Goldwater has been the deeply interested and helpful adviser and guide of the School of Nursing, taking a most responsible part in the direction and development of its activities. We are, however, much consoled by the fact that he has consented to accept the responsibility of continuing his services to us as consultant, in the same capacity and manner as to the Hospital, so that in this way we hope to have him continue to be our special administrative adviser for many years to come. The Board of Trustees, the head of the school and the faculty all realize how invaluable Dr. Goldwater's assistance has been in bringing the school to its present high standing and we sincerely rejoice that we may continue to turn to him for his valued counsel, interest and help.

The appointment of Dr. Turner, formerly associate director, to replace Dr. Goldwater, insures our having a Hospital head who will be in sincere sympathy with the aims, needs and work of our school.

On Friday evening, March 2nd, 1928, the Annual Commencement Exercises were held, at which time 73 students, the class of 1928, was graduated. The Graduating Exercises were held in the Blumenthal Auditorium, followed by a reception in the Nurses' Home. Since that date these 73 students have all completed their training and successfully passed their State Board Examinations, thus earning the right to the title of registered nurse.

In two years' time we will celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of our School of Nursing. Organized in the year 1881 with an initial class of 12 students, the school has steadily forged ahead until we now number over 1,700 graduates.

The Alumnae Association of the school is in a flourishing condition with a membership of over 600 members and a Pension Fund which has increased to $196,000.

The Registry for graduates of the school doing private duty nursing also has an excellent report for the year. A daily average of 330 Mount Sinai graduates has been available; 7,260 calls for nurses have been received during the year. Of this number, 5,870, or a little over 80 per cent were filled by our own nurses—1,160 calls, or 16 per cent being filled by nurses from other registries. For 255 cases, or 4 per cent, it was not possible either to find or furnish nurses.

The educational work of the school has been splendidly conducted by our Senior Instructor, Miss May Crouch, ably supported by Miss Goodine, the Instructor in Nursing Practice, Miss Ekey, Miss Casey, and Miss Clements. The courses of medical, surgical and special lectures have been conducted as usual by doctors selected because of their especial ability, and their willingness to be of assistance in this way to the school. We are indeed deeply indebted to them and to all members of the staff who on occasions when the nurses have been converted by illness for the time being into patients, have given so generously of their time, skill and service. To Dr. David Beck and Dr. Ira Cohen we are most deeply indebted.

As usual, there have been a number of social and recreational affairs enjoyed by the students throughout the year. Dances, class day exercises, special parties, concerts, theatre trips, etc., have all been enjoyed and many made possible through the generosity and kindness of friends of the nurses. Deeply concerned with and responsible for the comfort, welfare and happiness of our students stand two other splendid groups; that of the Dietary Department, captained by Miss Adeline Wood, and the Housekeeping Department under the able management of our matron, Miss Knauf.

There is another group whose splendid efforts, loyal support and conscientious work do more than can ever be told in making successful the standing and record of our Hospital and School of Nursing. This group consists of our faculty under the splendid leadership of our Superintendent of Nurses, Miss Elizabeth A. Greener with officials like Miss Brown, Miss Erwin, Miss Slator, Miss Ryan and Miss Ball, all of whom have given years of painstaking and splendid service; also that great group of graduate nurses in the various departments of the Hospital, each doing her part faithfully, creditably and well. Such loyalty and service mean more than can ever be told in making successful the work of the school and the Hospital. The Board of the School of Nursing is deeply appreciative of the efforts and attitude of this entire group and of all others who have played large or small parts in the work of the school as a whole during the past year.

HUGO BLUMENTHAL,
President of The Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY SOCIETY

OFFICERS

MRS. EMIL FRENKEL.....	PRESIDENT
MRS. WILLIAM GOODMAN.....	VICE-PRESIDENT
MRS. OSCAR ROSE.....	TREASURER
MRS. J. A. ARNOLD.....	SECRETARY

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL:
Gentlemen:

Another year has come and gone and once more it becomes my privilege to report to you upon the record of the Ladies' Auxiliary during the past season.

As usual we have fulfilled our allotted quota within the prescribed time completing your requisitions for bedding, linens and garments. The attendance as in the past left something to be desired but the conscientious efforts of those who came to the Hospital every Monday in rain or shine and gave of their time and their energy, made our task seem light and greatest thanks are due these faithful workers for their cheerful and willing coöperation.

Though we labored in the sunshine of peace and harmony, yet a dark cloud came to dim our happy mission, for on February 1st, Mrs. Ada Altman, our trustworthy and ever faithful matron, passed away. It is only now that we realize the great assistance which was rendered by this loyal soul and her worthy efforts will long remain green in our memory. But through the darkness there was a gleam of light for we have had the good fortune of securing the services of Mrs. N. Taylor who in the short period she has been with us has proven a worthy successor to our beloved Mrs. Altman.

Again we extend to your Board our sincerest gratitude for the ever-ready advice and wise counsel which you have always given, as well as the financial aid which tided us over in times of stress. I should consider myself remiss if I were not to mention especially the coöperation of Mr. Charles Klingenstein, whose untiring assistance guided us at every turn.

It has been an extreme pleasure to work with the members of our Board and it is my fond hope that another year will see them all with us again to continue our time-honored activities.

Respectfully submitted,

MALY R. FRENKEL,
President.

THE KINDERGARTNER AIDED BY VOLUNTEERS OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE AUXILIARY TAKES CONVALESCENT CHILDREN TO THE ROOF PLAY ROOM DAILY FROM 2 TO 4 P. M.

WAITING ROOM—CHILDREN'S SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE MOUNT SINAI HOSPITAL:
Gentlemen:

During 1928 we made no additions to our staff and the volume of work accomplished was approximately the same as that of the previous year. Although our statistical report shows some variations, these are mainly due to a different method in tabulation.

We continue to receive many requests for social workers, the most urgent of which are for the thrombo-angiitis obliterans clinic, the medical clinics, the gastro intestinal clinic, the asthma clinic for children, the diabetic clinic for children, and the radiotherapy department. There is great difficulty in procuring well trained medical-social workers and we believe that a staff educator, whose function would be to teach medical-social service to the new workers when they become members of our staff, would prove a valuable adjunct to the department.

During the past year we suffered an irreparable loss in the passing of Mrs. Arthur Lorsch who had been a member of the auxiliary board from the time of its organization. Desirous of giving expression to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Lorsch was held, the members of the Board of the Social Service Auxiliary created the Etta C. Lorsch Memorial Fund. This fund is to be used for the country care of children, a type of social work which always made a strong appeal to Mrs. Lorsch. The Etta C. Lorsch Vacation Fund was separately created in her memory by some of her friends and is to be used also for the country care of children. As we always have many needs in the department which could not be filled because of lack of funds, we were grateful for the bequest of $10,000 which Mrs. Lorsch made in her will for social service. These three funds were subsequently consolidated to form the Etta C. Lorsch Memorial Fund.

Dr. Henry Koplik, who in his lifetime devoted so much of his thought and effort to the Hospital, bequeathed $10,000 in his will for the establishment of the Dr. Henry Koplik Fund, the income of which is to be devoted solely to the care of infants and children whose parents are unable to pay the ward fees. We desire to make grateful acknowledgement of this further evidence of Dr. Koplik's generosity and concern for the needs of the children.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

We have welcomed two new members to the Board of the Auxiliary: Mrs. Edwin Berolzheimer, who has become Chairman of the Volunteers, and Mrs. Arthur Cohen. Miss Edith Sachs has become Chairman of the Children's Committee, Mrs. F. S. Mandlebaum, Mrs. Arthur Cohen, and Mrs. Robert Blumenthal serving with her. Mrs. Mandlebaum who gave a great deal of time to the summer work for the children, has become Chairman of the Committee on Country and Convalescent Homes. Mrs. Hugh Grant Straus has represented us on the Junior Membership Committee of Federation.

The workers on the wards divide their time between the medical and surgical wards and the medical and surgical clinics of the Out-Patient Department. Many of the clinic patients do not receive social service care as we receive only those cases referred to us by the clinic physicians as needing social service. An appreciable number of the ward patients come from Brooklyn and some from nearby towns. As it is impossible to visit these patients in their homes, we endeavor to coöperate with the local agencies, but proper disposition of the cases is often very difficult.

As the average stay of patients in the wards is 16 days, thus giving our workers over 100 new cases a month, it can be readily understood that intensive care for many patients is not possible. Last year a decrease of 104 new major care cases was more than offset by an increase of 2,795 minor care cases. Since Medical Follow-Up has been organized, the workers retain their contact with the patients for a longer period of time than heretofore, as an opportunity is thus afforded to see the patients again when they report to the Follow-Up Clinics. We continue to feel the need of adequate facilities for many types of chronic patients.

From the statistical report of the Children's Social Service Department we note a decrease of 466 in major care cases and an increase of 1,162 in minor care cases. This is accounted for by the fact that we have adopted a different method of classifying our cases.

For a number of years past many mothers brought their children to the clinics before they became seriously ill. This has been largely the result of education of the people to the use of the Hospital and Dispensary, and thus makes it simpler to get excellent results in health work.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

The Porto Rican group which continues to increase, presents a different picture. With this group we are confronted with many difficulties since its members have little idea of sanitation and all their standards are of a low order. They frequently insist upon medication to alleviate illness, but are uninterested in the workers' efforts to teach simple rules of health. The fact that the families move so often makes follow-up almost impossible.

We find a need for more day and night shelters, especially for very young children in our district, as those at our disposal are usually overcrowded. A convalescent home for infants and young children, a home for children suffering from asthma, and a place where discharged surgical cases can receive extensive dressings, are also required.

During the summer 960 children, active cases in our clinics during the year, were sent to the country and in addition we made vacations possible for 43 adults. An effort has been made on the part of vacation homes to keep children for longer periods of time if their condition so demands, and a considerable number of our children enjoyed this privilege.

We were unable to send 362 children on our list to the country. There were no vacancies available for 149 of these, chiefly boys between the ages of ten and fourteen. 155 children refused to leave their parents, and the remaining number were unable to go to the country for other reasons.

At the urgent request of the clinic physicians, we endeavored to do intensive work with a small group of diabetic children as well as with a group of asthma children. As we could not place these children in any vacation homes, we arranged for the use of a small farm house in Milford, Connecticut, sending a dietitian to give them the necessary attention. The children remained from three to six weeks, gaining in weight and showing general physical improvement. At present after a lapse of six months, they continue to give evidence of the improved physical condition derived from their stay in the country. The mothers of these diabetic children, temporarily relieved of the strain of preparing special diets and of watching them constantly, received a much needed rest.

In addition to the work with these children, it was found possible to fit into the regular vacation group 18 asthma cases that did not require special care, and who benefited greatly from their outing. There is an urgent need for a home where asthma children can remain for as long a period as their conditions require.

The presence of two doctors, during July and August, in the Children's Health Class enabled us to interview more new cases and to facilitate the examination of children to be sent to the country. Notwithstanding the fact that there were a number of changes in the staff, and that for three and a half months there were only two instead of three workers, the usual number of home visits was made. We have now three volunteer speech teachers instead of one and they have done particularly valuable work in correcting speech defects of the children by giving them the necessary individual attention.

The recreational worker who is in attendance during clinic hours every Wednesday afternoon, continues to do useful work. Engaging the attention of the children in various games and keeping them happy and amused, created an atmosphere other than that of the usual clinic. The ever present task of our staff workers in the handling of the large groups of children is simplified considerably, and we find mothers and children responding all the more readily to the treatment offered. The services of a psychologist which we have had for the past two years, have proved indispensable. Seven children received private tutoring in special subjects and the psychological effect which was marked, resulted in the creation of self confidence and a change of attitude toward school work.

We have not had sufficient funds to carry on all the work of the Children's Health Class and are most appreciative of the Max J. Breitenbach Fund which supports many of the activities undertaken.

There was a decrease of 51 new cases in the children's cardiac clinic, due, no doubt, to the attempt to district the clinic. The need for a clinic for adolescent boys and girls which has been felt for a number of years was met by the organization of a special clinic in December. This clinic meets on Wednesday afternoons, but the attendance to date has been poor. It is probably too early to state how successful this clinic is apt to be, but it should be noted that this adolescent group ranging from sixteen to twenty years, too old to attend a children's clinic, and not old enough to attend an adult clinic, has always been lax in attendance. Possibly a Saturday afternoon clinic would be more successful and this should be tried out.

We have felt, as others have, the lack of proper cardiac homes for chorea cases and class 2B cardiacs and cardiac children with low grade temperatures. The benefit to be derived from the establishment of such homes cannot be overestimated.

There has been a decrease in the number of both old and new cases in the adult cardiac clinic, due not only to the fact that in the previous year more thrombo-angiitis obliterans cases were admitted to the clinic for study, but because new cases living out of the district are now sent directly to the clinics nearest to their homes and because of the redistricting of our old cases. Notwithstanding the decrease in the number of cases, the case load of the adult cardiac clinic is very much too heavy, the worker having at present 326 cardiac cases under care.

During the past year the worker has had a desk in the orthopedic clinic and therefore more social problems were brought directly to her attention. There was only a small increase in major care cases, but 578 more minor care cases were dealt with than in the previous year. Varicose vein cases have been treated with considerable success by the injection method and the worker has been requested to follow up these cases and see that they return for treatment. The attendance in the Saturday morning massage clinic has continued excellent although we did not call for the patients or return them to their homes as we formerly did.

A desire for a better understanding of the social and economic problems of patients in the thrombo-angiitis obliterans clinic prompted us to have a study made of 100 cases. The results of the survey are best summarized as follows:

1. A social case worker, preferably one who has had psychiatric as well as industrial training, should be assigned to this clinic.
2. A district doctor should be available to give free home treatments to bedridden men who are unable to pay for a private physician.
3. There are two main industrial problems: The first is obtaining suitable work, either full or part time; the second is the suitable retraining of those who cannot carry on their previous occupations.

4. It is almost impossible to get seated part time work in competitive industry for a man who must attend a clinic. The ideal solution would be a sheltered workshop where both part and full time work could be available.

5. As some men could work in competitive industry if they did not have to attend the afternoon clinic, a night clinic would be helpful. As already stated, some men now unemployed because of clinic attendance could then obtain positions, while those who prefer to work rather than attend clinic could get the necessary treatments. The present wages of men who are working full time indicate that they could not afford to pay three to six dollars a week for private treatments over a long period of time.

There were 193 more cases in the tuberculosis clinic in 1928 than in 1927, due probably to the intensive work of the Board of Health in checking up cases so as to have the patients come to the clinics. It is well known that the Porto Ricans are susceptible to tuberculosis and they make up a large part of the clinic attendance.

It is interesting to note the following in connection with the work with the "contact" cases. The Porto Ricans readily permit an examination of their children as they are desirous of having them sent to the different preventoria. Unfortunately little constructive work is accomplished with the cases discharged from preventoria because of the fact that they move so frequently and make follow-up work difficult. With the Hebrews, Irish, and Italians, we have difficulty in bringing the "contacts" in for examination, but usually after a period of from four to six weeks the confidence of the family in our clinic has been established and patients come in to be examined and accept preventorium care for their children.

Examinations of 301 children "contacts" were made during the year, of which number 101 were found to be suffering from mediastinal tuberculosis, and of the latter 89 were Porto Ricans. Several pregnant mothers were referred to the Department of Health, so that upon the birth of the babies the Calmette treatment which consists of immunizing the new born infant against tuberculosis could be given. Of 536 cases closed during the year, 195 moved out of the district; 3 died; 116 were discharged for sanitarium care; and 222 were diagnosed as non-tuberculous. Fewer home visits were made in 1928 than in 1927 due to the shortage of workers.

The work of the luetic clinic was continued as in past years without any important changes. 436 new cases were admitted (an increase of 23 over the previous year), of whom 292 were married and 144 were single. 284 additional minor care cases taken over from the skin clinic were cared for by the workers in the Luetic Department. 261 "contacts" to these patients were examined, 40 of these "contacts" were found to have positive Wassermans: 15 of them were referred to evening clinics as the patients were unable to attend during the day; the remaining 25 are being treated here.

An analysis of the birthplace and color of these new cases reveals that 194 were West Indians (mainly Porto Ricans) and American born negroes. Of the 242 whites 94 were American born; 42 Russian; 31 Italian; 21 Austrian, and 54 came from other European countries. For reasons already mentioned we have great difficulty in following up the Porto Rican and negro cases, for it seems impossible to impress them with any sense of responsibility either to themselves or to their children.

In studying the new cases we found that most of the patients have no difficulty in arranging for clinic attendance; about 30 cases were transferred to those evening clinics which are being opened in different localities where treatment is offered at a minimum cost. Few patients, therefore, find it necessary to give up their employment in order to undergo treatment at the clinics.

Several paresis cases have been so benefited by the malarial treatment which they received in the Hospital that they have been able to return to their original occupations. These patients take a considerable amount of the worker's time as it is difficult to persuade them to receive hospital care and to encourage them to return for further treatment after they have been discharged.

The need felt for several years for a male psychiatric worker in the Mental Health Class was satisfied in October; during the past few months he has taken over 25 cases of young boys and men who presented psychiatric problems which the female workers had been unable to adjust. Two of these boys had been recommended for commitment. As a result of intensive work on these cases both of the boys are gradually becoming better socially adjusted; one has been placed in the Curative Work Shop and is now partially self supporting and the other is employed in business and is wholly self supporting.

At the request of the New York City Committee on Mental Hygiene every new case in the Mental Health Class is now registered with the Social Service Exchange regardless of whether or not it is a social service case. It has been gratifying to observe that very few of our cases attend any clinic other than our own.

Realizing that a very considerable expense is incurred with some of the Mental Health Class patients we made a study of fifteen cases in order to determine precisely what this cost is. We found that $2,638 was spent over a period of three years on these cases, and we believe that the patients derived sufficient benefit from the care afforded them to justify this expenditure.

We continued with our recreational program and the results show that the year's efforts have been well worth while. A large number of patients are members of the recreational group which meets one or more evenings each week in the Meinhard Memorial House where a program of dancing and games is arranged by the members in coöperation with the social workers. Several times during the year, large parties were held for all patients of the clinic and the club members acted as hosts and hostesses. The doctors have stressed the importance of recreational outlets for these patients and are convinced that this work, under psychiatric supervision, is a valuable adjunct to the treatment which the patients receive in the clinic. This recreational work is receiving commendation from other organizations in the city which deal with the adjustment of mental cases.

At the present time there is no adequate place available for the care of border line functional mental cases. In the few instances where we are able to obtain only general convalescent care, it is a concession on the part of institutions to accept this type of case. There is need of a bureau for boys similar to the Vocational Adjustment Bureau for Girls and we believe an evening clinic would be most helpful.

The Occupational Therapy Class is becoming more and more important to the work of the Mental Health Class. This class continues to be used as a means of observation of the patient; the occupational work is used purely for therapeutic ends, no stress being placed on the output or sale of the articles produced by the patients. Although fewer cases were handled than in previous years, those we had presented more difficult problems and the work done has been more intensive: 48 patients, of whom 18 were boys and men, received the benefit of the work. Since October, Miss Emery, our occupational therapist, has taken some cases referred to her by the doctors from the neurological wards.

Our social worker in the metabolism clinic has not taken part in any clinic management since October, and is now devoting her entire time to social service problems. A social history is taken of every new patient although social cases are not made unless a definite social problem is presented. Relieved of the details of clinic management, the worker has been able to give some time to the gastro-intestinal clinic, the adult asthma clinic, and a medical clinic. Each of these special clinics should have its own social worker, as much intensive work is required if adequate service is to be given to the patients.

The Medical Follow-Up work of the Hospital, organized in October, 1927, has at present a staff of a chief worker and two assistants. Eight clinics are covered by the Follow-Up service: four surgical, one gynecological, one orthopedic, one pediatric, and one neurological. During the year, 11,986 notifications to patients were sent out and 7,622 visits to the clinic were made, resulting in an average attendance of 63 per cent. 680 cases were discharged, 252 patients were referred for readmission to the Hospital, and 893 patients were referred for treatment to other clinics. Some of the reasons which prevent the patients from attending clinics are: (1) Inability to be excused from their work at the time clinics are held; (2) mothers cannot leave their children; (3) patients cannot be reached on account of change of address; (4) in many instances patients who feel well cannot be made to understand the importance of return visits.

The volunteers continue to give valuable assistance. Thirty-five of them have served for two years or more; one worker has been with us for twelve years, one eleven, and one ten years. Many who originally came to perform clerical work now assist the nurses with surgical dressings, assist with lamp treatments, and have even trained themselves to assist laboratory technicians. They serve for approximately nine hours a week and are regular and prompt in their attendance, frequently introducing substitutes when they are obliged to be absent for long periods.

We are continually using volunteers in new fields. For example, the services of a Spanish interpreter became necessary because of the increasing number of Spanish speaking patients coming to both the Hospital and the Dispensary. Fortunately we found a Spanish-American lady upon whom we can call whenever the need arises. The New York Tuberculosis and Health Association has provided us with the services of a secretary to train volunteers in the cardiac clinics in the use of their standard system of tabulation. This uniform system is being introduced in the clinics throughout the city in order to make the statistical information more readily available for research. The two workers who have already been taught the new methods are now compiling the new charts. We are glad to report that the doctors, who after all must be the judges of our efficiency, are enthusiastic over the intelligent help given them by the volunteers and are constantly asking for more workers.

The following course of lectures was given to all of the student nurses:

"The Welfare Council," by Mr. William Hodson.

"The Adolescent Boy and Girl," by Dr. Ira S. Wile.

"Social Aspects of Tuberculosis," by Mr. Edward Hochhauser.

"Changing Concepts of Social Service," by Miss Frances Taussig.

"Social Problems of Maternity," by Miss Grace R. Bolen.

"Delinquency," by Judge Samuel D. Levy.

"The Problem of the Physically Handicapped," by Dr. John Culbert Faries.

"The American Red Cross," by Miss Florence Johnson.

"Hospital Social Service," by Miss Fanny Lissauer.

We are indebted to these speakers for so kindly giving us their time and thought in our efforts to convey to the student nurses an idea of the important aspects of medical social work.

Many of our staff workers have been anxious to add to their knowledge of medical social work and the auxiliary board has been pleased to pay for scholarships, thus giving the staff workers the opportunity to attend lectures at different schools and colleges in the city. Eight scholarships at a cost of ten to thirty dollars each were granted.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

We have been very much cramped for space, frequently making it difficult for the staff workers to attend to their work properly. It deprives patients of privacy which is frequently essential if the needed contact with them is to be gained. We look forward to better facilities with the effectuation of the new building plans.

We have had the same satisfactory coöperation with other agencies as we have enjoyed in previous years and wish to thank them for the assistance accorded us. The Federation of Jewish Philanthropic Societies has provided us with a large part of the funds which enable us to carry on our work, and we are very appreciative of their support.

In concluding, I wish to express my appreciation to Dr. Goldwater and Dr. Turner for their guidance and advice, to Miss Lissauer and the staff for earnest efforts in furthering the work of the department, and to the members of the Board of the Auxiliary for their devoted and continued interest and support.

Respectfully submitted,

RUTH M. COOK,

President of the Social Service Auxiliary.

Extracts from the Constitution on Endowed Beds and Endowments

- A Contribution of $2,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Life Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge.
- A Contribution of $3,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Memorial Bed. Such a contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the main Hospital, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by the said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal. In the event of such successor being appointed, the rights hereinbefore mentioned shall continue for a period of not over fifty years from the date of such contribution—such period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor.
- A Contribution of $5,000 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Perpetual Bed in the Children's Pavilion. Such contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the wards of the Children's Pavilion, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by said donor in his or her last will and testament or by any other instrument under seal.
- A Contribution of $7,500 to the General Fund of the Hospital, if accepted by the Board of Trustees, shall endow a Perpetual Bed, but where, under the provision of any will executed prior to March 20, 1921, the sum of $5,000 or more is bequeathed to the Hospital in payment of any Perpetual Bed, the Board of Trustees may, at their option, accept such sum in payment of such Perpetual Bed. Such contribution shall entitle the donor thereof, during his or her lifetime, to name a patient from time to time to use and occupy one bed in the general wards of the main Hospital, free of charge. Such donor may bequeath that right to a successor appointed by said donor in his or her last will and testament, or by any other instrument under seal.
- When a corporation is the donor, the privilege shall expire at the end of twenty-five years from the date of such contribution.
- Tablets to commemorate the endowment of Life and Memorial Beds shall be placed in the ward selected by the donor, subject to the rules of the Hospital. Tablets for Life Beds shall be maintained during the life of the donor, tablets for Memorial Beds for a period not beyond fifty years from the date of their endowment, such a period, however, not to end before ten years from the death of the donor. The endowment of a Perpetual Bed shall entitle the donor, or his legal representative, to have a tablet placed in the ward selected by him, or by them, or to have the endowment recorded on a tablet provided for that purpose in the corridor of the Hospital; such tablets shall be maintained in perpetuity.
- A donor may change a Life Bed endowed by him or her to a Memorial Bed by making an additional contribution of $1,000, or to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $5,000, or may change a Memorial Bed to a Perpetual Bed by making an additional contribution of $4,000.
- No patient shall occupy a Life, Memorial or Perpetual Bed unless he shall comply with the current rules of the Hospital and be a proper subject for treatment according to its regulations.
- An endowment for the establishing of any special fund may be accepted by a resolution of the Board of Trustees. Such fund may be created either for a special purpose, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to such purpose only, or under the name of one or more persons, in which event the income therefrom shall be devoted to the general purposes of the Hospital. Such endowment funds shall be kept by the Treasurer as special accounts. Contributions to existing funds may be made at any time, but no funds shall be created with an initial endowment of less than Ten Thousand Dollars.
